Elliott; "Class Poem," Miss Melick; "Experiences with Kiotea," Ward Hildreth; "Remember the Time That —," G. L. Towne; "In Spirit Only," Miss Olivia Pound. Late in the afternoon the party adjourned after thanking Miss Lindley and congratulating her on the original and successful ideas carried out, and after accepting the kind invitation of Miss Pound to meet with her next year.

Col. and Mrs. F. M. Woods gave a brilliant reception on Tuesday evening for Mr. Albert F. Woods and his bride, of Washington, D. C., who will visit with friends for a week before returning to Washington. The many guests were received by Col. and Mrs. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods. The parlors were decorated in green and white. Mrs. F. M. Woods wore a handsome gown of black silk, with white lace; Mrs. Albert Woods, her wedding gown of white tulle, with real lace and diamonds; and Mrs. Frank Woods, an exquisite gown of blue and white challie. All three carried La France roses. The hostess was assisted in the parlors by Mrs. H. E. Lewis and Misses Beasie and Alice Wing. In the pink dining room refreshments were served by Mrs. Mark Woods and Mrs. George Woods, and in the Japanese room punch was served by Miss Helen Harwood who wore a Japanese costume. Those who served the refreshments were assisted by Misses Ethel Tukey, Katherine Woods, Joy Webster, Fannie Cole, Blanche Garten, Laura Bridge, Clara Watkins and Nelie Cochran, all of whom wore thin gowns. The reception was most successful and a credit to the hostess, and showed the esteem with which Mr. Woods is held, by this hearty welcome of his bride.

Mrs. Hill and Miss Anna Tibbets gave a beautiful reception on Friday which, in spite of the threatening weather, was largely attended and most thoroughly enjoyed. The house was very prettily decorated. The porch was covered with bunting of the national colors and flags and palms. Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Tibbets, Mrs. Hertache, of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Drake of Beatrice received the guests. They stood under an arch of palms. The entire house was decorated with palms and roses. At the door the guests were met by Miss Lena Cole. In the parlors Mrs. Tibbets, Mrs. Robbins and Miss Pound assisted in entertaining the guests. In the dining room, which was done in green and white, green ice cream was served by Mrs. Hall and Mrs. I. G. Chapin, who were assisted by Misses Whiting, Loomis and Kirker. They were gowned in green and white. The table was covered with lilies. Mrs. Chapman and Miss Leese assisted in the upper hall. In one of the rooms, which was decorated in pink, white and blue bunting, Mrs. Frank Woods, gowned in blue, served punch. She was assisted by Miss Maude Hammond in pink, and Miss Nellie Dean in white. The table was decorated with bunches of pink roses tied with ribbons. A mandolin orchestra helped to make the afternoon more pleasant.

The Alumni luncheon was not so well attended as usual but it was very enjoyable nevertheless. Judge Field was the toastmaster and introduced the speakers very feelingly. In referring to the failure of Mr. D. H. Wheeler of Omaha to respond in anyway to the invitation extended him by the alumni committee Judge Field spoke of the desirability of having trained diplomats to represent our country in foreign nations. It would be very convenient at times to have a consul and interpreter in Omaha who might be able to convey messages from one place to the other. At the present time, he said, all communication seems to have been cut off. Professor Bruner took Mr. Wheeler's place and related his experiences with the South American consuls from this country. The other speakers were: Miss Sarah B. Harris, '88, "Our Sovereign Lady the Press;" A. F. Woods, '90, "The Washington Colony;" D. H. Wheeler, Jr., '82, "Our Relation With the Metropolis;" Miss Stella Kirker, '92, "The Young Idea;" O. H. Martin, '98, "At Large;" Chancellor McLean, Regent Weston.

The senior chemistry class of the high school held the annual "spread" in Science hall Tuesday afternoon at which were present the teachers of the high school and the class in chemistry, sixty-five in all. The menu card read, "The second gastronomical analysis made by the chemistry class of the Lincoln high school" and contained a menu printed on a round piece of filter paper, and expressed as far as possible in chemical symbols, as SiO₂wiches for sandwiches.

The spread was served only in chemical utensils, the salad in evaporating dishes, the lemonade in beakers with pieces of glass tubing for straws. The toasts were: "The Principal Compound," by Isabel Trumble; "Important Elements," Maud Miller; "The Chemistry Class," Charles Woods; "In Days of Alchemy," Laura Bentley; "Our Teacher," Leonard Hertz. In closing Mr. Kurtz presented F. F. Tucker, instructor in chemistry, with a gold pen in behalf of the students in chemistry.

The fifth annual banquet of the college of law of the university of Nebraska was given on Wednesday evening. Ernest C. Folsom was the toastmaster and responses were made by Judges T. O. C. Harrison, C. L. Hall, M. B. Reese, Chancellor MacLean, E. J. Burkett, W. J. Bryan, J. L. Wallace, V. O. Johnson, John H. Groverner and I. S. Wilson.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Mallalieu entertained a few of her friends in her pretty and attractive new home on South Thirteenth street, in honor of her friends, Miss Nofsinger, of Kansas City. An elegant luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Muir and Mrs. Dorgan gave a reception on Friday afternoon at the home of the latter. They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. C. Cass of Denver, who wore a handsome gown of embroidered grenadine over red silk, with point lace and diamonds. Mrs. Wilson wore a gown of black and lavender silk with point lace. Mrs. Muir wore a dainty gown of organdy with black, and Mrs. Dorgan wore a gown of white swiss. The guests were received in the first parlor which was decorated with bow knots of red, white and blue swiss. In the second parlor ice was served by Miss Sarah Harris, assisted by two colored attendants. In the dining room, which was decorated artistically with large Japanese lanterns, Mrs. Myron Wheeler and Mrs. Carl Funke served creme de violette. The porch was enclosed with canvas and bunting with large national flags, and here Mrs. George Woods and Miss Florence Putman poured tea. In the evening an elegant supper was served for those who assisted the hostess, their husbands, and Mr. Ogden and Mr. Guy Hurlbut.

Died at Ossipee, New Hampshire, June 7, 1898, Mrs. N. W. Magoon, of this city. Her son, Mr. C. E. Magoon, was with her when she died. Mrs. Magoon was a woman of strong character and a daughter of a fine old family. She met the duties and trials of a lot not especially easy with cheerfulness. She has many strong friends in Lincoln who will always regret her loss.

Died at Beatrice on Tuesday, June 7, Mrs. Abbie Tiffany. Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany came to Lincoln in 1870, and for twenty years Mrs. Tiffany was a teacher in and principal of one of the public schools of Lincoln. Mrs. Tiffany died at the institute for the feeble minded at Beatrice, where she was matron. She was born in Cattaraugus county, New York, and was sixty-two years old. She was president of the ladies' bimetallic league of Lincoln, and her funeral was under its auspices. The funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the parlors of the Lincoln hotel. Interment was made at Weeping Water, a former home of the family.

Mrs. Amelia H. Howell, mother of Mrs. J. H. Harley, died suddenly of apoplexy at Englewood, Ill., Thursday. She will be buried at Geneseo, Ill. Mrs. Harley left for Englewood on the Rock Island Friday.

The Gospel meetings Sunday afternoons, at 4 o'clock, are unusually interesting and helpful.

All women and girls are made very much at home in these meetings, being heartily welcomed by the young women ushers and the secretary.

Miss Bouton, the president of the association, started for Boston last week. She will visit the summer Conference at Northfield, Mass., in July.

Miss Mae Sumner and Mrs. E. Moore are preparing to attend the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., July 3 to 4.

The Bulletin will be issued later in the month than usual as there are many things of interest to be given to the public, plans for which have not fully developed. Additional interest will be centered in the June number, since there will be no issue of the Bulletin during July and August.
