She leaves desolate a mother and father, her husband and son, two sisters and two brothers. The funeral was held yesterday at the Carter homestead.

CITY IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

The City Improvement Association held its regular fortnightly session in the rooms of the Union Commercial club on Thursday morning. Three members of the Council, Mr. Mockett, Mr. Webster and Mr. Guthrie were present and very good naturedly answered the questions of the women who are trying to understand why the alleys are so filthy, the sidewalks are so bad and the weeds not cut. The members of the association were greatly encouraged by the visit of these members of the council and the appreciation which they expressed of their efforts. In this one point of official sympathy encouragement and in so far as possible aid by the council and officials, the City Improvement society of Lincoln has had an unique experience so far as can be learned from correspondence with other societies and at nearly every session committees which have consulted with the city officials express appreciation of this treatment.

After a discussion of the practice of emptying broken glass on the street, so destructive of the pavement, bicycle tires and injurious to horses feet, the creation of sidewalk districts etc, the meeting adjourned for two weeks while expressing thanks to the councilmen for their presence.

THE TIME IS BRIEF.

- O Love the time is brief, give me thy pouting lips to kiss,
- Too soon our passions cool, too soon 'tis but remembered bliss.
- O Love the time is brief, at love's fair feast thou art my guest
- O fly to my embrace and ease my passion-tortured breast.
- O Love the time is brief, on wings of wind the years take flight,
- O let us love awhile, before the falling of the night.
- O Love the time is brief, pale Death is knocking at the door
- He stands and mocking cries, "Your dream of love will soon be o'er."
- O Love the time is brief, the flush of youth soon fades and dies
- O give me now I pray, the noonday splendor or thine eyes.

—William Reed Dunroy.

Mr. Puffer—I don't understand your sudden aversion to tobacco, my dear. Before we were married you used to say you adored the smell of a cigar.

Mrs. Puffer—That was campaign strategy, Puffer.

WILLIAM A. GREEN, Plaintiff. Dated November, 18th, 1898.

The following bit of repartee, printed now for the first time, is reported of Dr. Stratton, now of Portland, Oregon, and the well known lecturer, Mrs. Edholm. While they were going off a boat at Oakland, California, a heavy rain began, and the doctor gallantly offered a share of his umbrella to Mrs. Edholm, saying "Will you come under my umbrella, Mrs. Edholm?" "Thank you," she replied, "then you will be my rain-beau, will you not?" "Yes," said he, "and you will be my rain-dear, I suppose," to which she answered, "But I won't be a Lap-lander."
