whole, was one full of interest to those present, who sauntered and gazed and chatted. Mr. J. Lawrie Wallace of Omaha, who is engaged in painting a portrait of Mrs. F. M. Hall, was an interested spectator at the reception. Mr. Durant of New York, who has a collection of pictures on the wall was present as was also Mr. Moses L. Scudder of New York. In all, the reception could not have been more enjoyable to lovers of art than it was, for there was the absence of stiff formality, and a sort of bohemian enjoyment that every one seemed to enter into heartily.

One of the largest social functions of the week and one that was very enjoyable throughout, was the kensington given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Silas A. Holcomb. Miss Netta Holcomb received the guests at the door, and Mrs. Holcomb was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Elias Baker. Miss Marion Holcomb, attired in pink swiss, with pink ribbons, presided over the coffee urn. The parlors were adorned with bunches of carnations, relieved by ferns and clusters of fragrant roses. In the dining room the lights were softened by pink shades, and a cut glass vase held magnificent roses. A dainty luncheon in which the prevailing color scheme was carried out was served by young ladies in black gowns and white caps. Mrs. Holcomb's guests were: Mesdames L. C. and A. M. Chapin, A. L. and S. C. Hoover, H. H. and J. H. Harley, Poynter, Sawyer, Brown, Bailey, Garten, Winger, Moore, Rudge, Holm, Stearns, Teeters, States, Humphrey, McCreery, Seacrest, Welch, Hurlbut, MacLean, Bruner, Tibbets, Jewell, Pool, Scott, Casebeer, Abbott, Rewick, Link, Lynch, Porter, Coffroth, Clark, Reese, Coffin, Hill, Baker, Witter, Dr. Minerva Newbecker, Miss Tibbets, Mrs. Morgan of Broken Bow and Miss Sara Garrett of Fremont.

A military hop was what the members of Lincoln Light Infantry gave Thursday night. The hall was decorated with the national colors and the purple and gold of the company made beautiful adornments at the end of the hall. The gentlemen all appeared in uniform, adding yet one more touch of the military to the dance. Punch was served during the evening. Walt's orchestra made the music, which was of the best. Lieutenant L. A. Dorrington of Omaha was present. Those who enjoyed the dance were Misses Mundorf, Lawlor, Grewell, Tyler, Martha and Elsie Koerner, Morrow, Chase, Barrick, Bell, Sallie and Hattie Berkson, Howland, Rossa, Clara and Martha Wolf, Du Teil, Douglas, Biltgen, Barclay, McGivern, Curtis; Mesdames Hallet, Rogers, Rossa, Tyler, Hale, and Messrs. Du Teil, Clifton, Fred Walt, Walt and Fred Ludwig, Lafferty, Hyatt, Weeks, Hale, Cooper, Hooper, Hugh and Fred Hallett, Painter, Tyler, Ringer, Jones, Haggard, Rossa, Wolf, Vaughn Campbell, J. W. and R. H. Lawlor, Sutter, Rogers, O'Shea, Deemer, Clark, Anderson, Bolshaw, Howland, Streight, Mitchell and Brooks. The committee in charge was W. I. Brooks, chairman, F. W. Ludwig, R. E. Deemer, H. D. Mitchell and Vaughn Campbell. The programs were works of art with flags and representations of arms.

The Lindell Card Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Mauritzius at the Lindell hotel. There were just twelve ladies present to enjoy two tables of six handed euchre, the game that is always played at the meetings of the club. No prizes are offered at the meetings, but at the end of the season when the club disbands for the summer there will be a reckoning, and the one who has won the most games will be given a prize. Mrs. Mauritzius served daintily prepared refreshments on handsomely painted china, the work of her own hands. The ladies who took hands at euchre were Mesdames Hoover, Mauritzius, Perrine, Bartruff, Harrison, Hershberger, Hershing, Underwood, Bahn, Humphrey, and Misses Steele and Shute.

Mr. George F. Corcoran, of the attorney general's office, entertained a pleasant party Tuesday evening at progressive whist. The parlors were adorned with bunches of cut flowers, and refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. T. S. Allen won the prize for the best lady player and Mr. Dan Bride won the gentlemen's prize. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames T. S. Allen, O. J. West, Mrs. Thompson, Misses Mary Stevens, Lizzie Stevens, Shreve, Holland, Messrs. Oldham, Hyatt, Lynch, Blum, Stevens and Bride.

Carl Marlay and Alex Sheldon gave a lobster party Tuesday evening to a few friends, which was one of the jolliest little gatherings of the week. There was fun from the first greetings until the adieus were said at a late hour. The evening was taken up with conversation and the cooking of the lobster in chafing dish, an undertaking that afforded unlimited amusement. The party was informal and the guests were: Misses Clark, Loomis, Sheldon and Getner, and Messrs. Charles and Will Clark, Horton, Reed, Sheldon and Marlay.

A number of young men who were indebted to the members of the Q. A. T. society of girls for a very pleasant party New Years eve, gave them a party in return last night in Turpin's Hall. About sixteen couples enjoyed a dancing program of the right length to music furnished by Ed Walt's orchestra. Everybody had a good time.

Miss Frances Maule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Maule, of Lincoln, has been promoted to the desk of exchange editor of the Denver Republican. Miss Florence Maule, will do the society and clubs on the paper, a position which her sister formerly occupied. Mrs. Maule is spending the winter with her daughters for the sake of her health. Mrs. Maule's new book, a story for boys has been accepted by an eastern book concern, and it will be published some time in the near future. The book is called "The Knight of X-Bar-B," and is a story of a western cattle ranch.

Mr. Herbert Johnson, came from Kansas City last Sunday to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson. Mr. Johnson is now the chief artist on the Kansas City Journal, a position of much responsibility. He is one of the youngest men in the United States to hold such a position. His work has attracted wide attention by reason of its originality, and his cartoons are new and unique. Besides his regular work, he is also engaged on some magazine work and has made a success of this also. Some time ago the Inland Printer printed a sketch of Mr. Johnson's life and printed a portrait of the young man. He received flattering commendation at the hands of the editor of the paper. Lincoln is always proud to hear of the success of her sons, and the news of the pronounced success of this young man, comes very pleasantly to the ears of his own friends and the friends of his father and mother.

The members of the Lincoln Club have elected new officers for the remainder of the season. They are: Edwin Lefevre, president; Elmer Richeson, vice-president; George Brown, secretary; Frank Du Teil, treasurer. The committee on arrangements is: Messrs. Howard Harding, William Linder and Win Fancher. Peter Plamondon will be the master of ceremonies for the next party which will be given on the night of Feb. 9th.

The men of the Second Presbyterian Church gave a social Tuesday evening. Mr. Shepherd, who is just home from Manila, made a talk on the manners and customs of the country, and illustrated his talk with a large number of photographs and relics. The waiters were dressed to represent natives of the far away islands, and the supper served was sumptuous.

J. J. Butler, Jr., has been assistant in the B. & M. city passenger ticket office for the past six months, has gone to St. Louis where he will take a position in the division passenger department of the Illinois Central Railway. Mr. Butler has many friends in Lincoln who will be glad to hear that he has been promoted, but sorry to know that he must leave the city.

The members of the Pi Beta Phi sorority have issued a large number of invitations for a party to be given at the Lincoln hotel on the evening of Feb. 11. As that is St. Valentine's day and the night before charter day at the university, the party will take an unusual gay coloring from the time, and every one is looking forward to a good time.

The members of the Young Men's Republican Club will give their annual banquet on the evening of Feb. 13. The event will be of prominence in the social and political world. Governor Stanley, of Kansas, has been secured as one of the speakers and E. H. Hinshaw will also respond to a toast.

Miss Mae Mount who has been the charming guest of Miss Maude Oakley for over a week has returned to her home in Omaha. The presence of Miss Mount in the city has been the occasion of several merry gatherings, and she will be missed.

Mrs. B. H. Rollins, of Columbus, Mo., maid and son, arrived on Thursday to visit Mrs. Carson and Miss Rose Carson. They are on their way to California where they will remain a few months.

Henry Eames will give his lecture recital of Russian music for the Matinee Musicale Monday evening, Feb. 6, at Thompson Hall. Admission 25 cents.
