the guests at the staircase. She was assisted by Mesdames Raymond, Holm, Barbour, Burnham, Lewis, and Misses Righter and Harwood. After the program cherry ice, kisses, coffee, coconut snowballs and crystallized mint leaves were served in the dining room by Mrs. Oliver Rodgers and Miss Harwood assisted by Misses Burr and Oakley, gowned in pink. The dining table was adorned with a centerpiece of pink roses and lighted by candelabra of the same color.

Mrs. Lamberton wore a gown of heliotrope silk trimmed with cream lace and velvet. Mrs. Campbell's was an imported costume of navy blue polka dot taffeta with trimmings of renaissance lace. The music rendered by Mrs. Campbell, Miss Hoover and Miss Eiche was the feature of the afternoon. The first number on the program was Schubert's serenade with 'cello obligato and being a popular favorite made an auspicious opening number. It is scarcely necessary to mention the individual work of the performers, as all are known to excel in their sphere and all were at their best. The program was:

1. Serenade—Schubert with 'cello obligato.
- 2 a. Erzalungen sur Klavier—Scharwenka; b. Nachtstuecke—Schermaun; c. Cradle song—Turner, Miss Hoover.
3. a. Cradle song—Hauser; b. Chant sans paroles—Tschakowsky, Miss Eiche.
4. a. Three Roses Red—Norris; b. Bendemeer's Stream—Gatty; c. Slumber Sea—Chisholm, Mrs. Campbell.
5. a. Du Bist die Ruh—Schubert—

Liszt; b. Fruhlingsrauschen—Sinding, Miss Hoover.

6. a. O that We Two were Maying—Nevin; b. Cradle song with 'cello obligato—Gaynor.

The open meeting of the Woman's club last Monday afternoon was under the auspices of the Art department and took the form of a reception at the beautiful home of Mrs. F. M. Hall, leader of that department. Mrs. Hall was assisted in receiving by Mrs. S. C. Langworthy of Se ward, president of the N. F. W. C., and Mrs. A. W. Field, president of the Woman's club. This was undoubtedly the most brilliant affair ever given by this club and was most heartily enjoyed by those permitted to be present. Mrs. Hall's home is always a pleasure to those who love art, and Monday the three floors were thrown open to the guests. In the billiard room in the third story, were displayed more than three hundred photographs illustrating the years' study in this department. These photographs represented Egyptian, Assyrian, Jewish, Greek, Roman and American. Early Christian, English, Dutch and Italian. Modern and French Art.

On the second floor one room was devoted to Greek art, two to Roman art and one to pictures in the rococo style. In the reception and dining rooms original water colors were hung. The oil paintings were hung in the parlor, while in the library was displayed a fine collection of Braun photographs. Mrs. A. A. Scott presided over the refreshments and was assisted by several young ladies. There was a short program of readings by Mr. William Reed Dunroy interspersed with music by a string band. Mr. Dunroy reaped to very silent listeners. He reads very affectively and in his black orator's robe is an interesting and distinguished figure.

Mrs. Macdonald gave a tea on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Helen Holmes. The beautiful rooms were filled with Easter lilies with palms arranged in dado form around them. Mrs. Macdonald was in a charming gown of white satin and Mrs. Holmes in an effective gown of white lace. Mr. Macdonald served champagne punch in the Turkish room. The arrangements and refreshments reached their accustomed elegance and perfection, when accomplished by Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald. In the evening the receiving party consisting of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Coffroth and Mrs. Holmes, occupied a box at the Oliver.

The Order of the Railway Conductors division 227, and Ladies Auxiliary, No. 86, gave their first annual ball at the A. O. U. W. hall on Wednesday evening. About fifty couples were present. The officers of the O. R. C. are chief conductor J. B. Tannery; secretary and treasurer, O. S. Ward. Officers of the L. A. are: President, Mrs. D. H. Heagy; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Ed Doane. The committee of arrangements was Messrs. and Mesdames Tannery, Holtz, Dority, Harvey, Heagy, Ward, Hoxie, and Christian; Mrs. Chase and Miss Davey. The floor committee was Messrs. Holtz, Hoxie and Taylor.

The Chestnut party given to members of Sorosis by Mrs. Barbour last Saturday afternoon was very merry. The new home in which the Barbours are settled is beautiful and very well arranged. Saturday afternoon was spent in trading old yarns and greeting old friends under the bonny chestnut bush.

Mrs. J. H. Mallalieu received a letter a few days ago from her father, Mr. S. E. Moore, mailed at Queenstown. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are now in London where they will remain for six months. They will then travel through England before going to the continent and expect to be in Paris during the coming exposition.

The Round Table met on Monday evening at the residence of Mr. E. E. Brown. Dr. W. M. Hindman read a paper on "The Mormon Propaganda." The discussion which followed was spirited and interesting. At the close the twenty-eight gentlemen present gathered around tables arranged in the dining room and enjoyed a luncheon of several courses.

On Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., in the Grace Lutheran church, occurred the marriage of Miss Carrie Stien to Mr. Chas. L. Graham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. P. Ludden, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will reside in Lincoln.

On Tuesday evening a smoker was given at the Phi Kappa Psi chapter house in honor of the delegates and
