

who used the ring service.

The wedding march was melodiously played by Mrs. E. Grace Ferris. Ices, cakes and wafers were served by Mrs. Frank Spangler, Misses Grimstead, Jeary and Denman.

The house was decorated with palms, smilax, roses and carnations. The guests were: Governor, Mrs. and Miss Poynter, and Mr. Poynter Jr.; Messrs. and Mesdames Griggs, Hedge, Jaery, Bacon and Froyer; Mesdames Girgery and Ferris of Lincoln; Mrs. Kauffman, Miss Kauffman and Mr. Will Kauffman of Sebeha, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Ginery of Valperaiso; Misses Parker and Ruby of Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman have gone to Colorado Springs and other points.

A small company gathered Monday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Hastings to witness the baptism of their little son, William Fairbank Hastings. Dr. Henry Fairbank, of India, performed the christening. He was assisted by Dr. W. M. Hindman, of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. W. H. Maness, of the First Congregational church. Miss Grace Reynolds sang "Suffer the Children" and "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old." Indian refreshments of curry, rice and tamarind sauce were served on leaves, by Shewantilai Bhujangras Gayakwad, dressed in native costume. Invited guests were Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Bessey, Mrs. Atherton, Dr. and Mrs. Hindman, Rev. and Mrs. Maness, Professor and Mrs. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Miss Reynolds.

Mrs. A. T. Peters was at home to one hundred and fifty ladies yesterday from three to five o'clock at her pretty home 2438 W street. The guests were received by Mrs. and Miss Peters of Chicago, and Mrs. L. A. Sherman. Mrs. Peters wore a toilet of white gloria silk and real lace. Miss Peters' gown was of pale blue faille silk with chiffon trimmings and pearl beads. The reception room was decorated with roses, carnations and palms. Mrs. Peters was assisted by Mesdames Wilson, Franklin and Miss Easterday. The dining room was beautiful in lavender hues of lilacs, wood violets and smilax, in delicate contrast to the white gowns. Mrs. R. H. Wolcott presided at the punch bowl. Misses Miner, Crowell and Quaintance served ices. The callers were received at the door by Miss Hazel Golden. A mandolin club played during the afternoon.

On Friday evening Miss Mae Burr entertained for her guest Miss Morrison, of St. Joseph, and Miss Marie Hoover. Music was rendered by Miss Hoover, Mr. Thatcher and others, caboose was played. A ripple of surprise was caused by the announcement by Miss Burr of the engagement of Miss Marie Hoover and Mr. E. S. Thatcher. The young couple received sincere congratulations from those present whose names follow: Misses Norman, Hoover, Griffith, Hollowbush, Garten, Burnham, Putnam and Helen Hoover; Messrs. Mattson Baldwin, Joyce, Gettings, Gable, Roy Chapman, John Dixon, Morrison and Thatcher.

Frau Krumdiek and her nephew Mr. Rheinschuessel will open a summer school of languages in the Capitol school building as soon as the public school closes. The hours will be from 9 to 11 A. M. every day except Saturday. The terms are $4 for two months, for instruction in one language. German, French, Spanish or Latin will be offered. Evening classes formed on demand.

Frau Krumdiek is a very competent teacher in modern languages. She is employed in the university and has had great success with private classes. Her accomplishments and ability to teach have been exemplified by her pupils and the opportunity for acquiring a working knowledge of modern languages will be accepted by parents who do not wish their children to spend all of the vacation in play.

The members of the State Medical society enjoyed a banquet at the Lindell hotel Wednesday evening. The menu cards were ornamented with a skull and cross bones. Hagenow's orchestra furnished music.

The following list of toasts were given, Dr. M. H. Garten acting as toastmaster. "The Young Doctor, as Seen Through the Old Doctor's Eyes"—E. M. Whitten. "The Philopeno"—H. B. Lowry. "May We Never Meet Him"—B. B. Davis.

"The Old Doctor, as I Saw Him"—W. L. Green.

"Our Status Praesens"—J. P. Lord.

"Doc Bixby, M. D. (nit.)"

"The Country Doctor"—C. C. Gafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnham entertained at cards last evening. The decorations were beautiful and the luncheon exquisite. The following guests were: Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean, Professor and Mrs. Kimball, Messrs. and Mesdames Hall, Kelley, Lambertson, Tilton, Rodgers, Thompson, Harwood, Campbell, Wilson, Muir, Raymond, Wilson, Oakley, Aitken, Leonard, Wright, Wilson, Mr. Wing, Judge and Mrs. Irvine, Miss Harwood, Mr. Will Raymond, Miss Raymond, Dr. and Mrs. Bailey, Professor and Mrs. Barbour, Mr. Harry Shedd, Mr. George Shedd.

Mrs. A. R. Mitchell entertained informally and delightfully the retiring board of the Matinee Musicale and a few other friends yesterday afternoon to meet the ladies who attended the Biennial at St. Louis. The afternoon was spent in hearing reports of the convention, and in discussing plans for next year's work. The guests were Mesdames Doane, Butler, Raymond, Sanderson, Brown, Barbour, Jansen, Wright, Winger, Campbell, Baker, Holm, Misses Oakley, Smith, Miller and Harwood.

Mr. E. H. Barbour gave a euchre party Saturday afternoon at which Mrs. Green and Mrs. Rodgers were the victorious players. In serving luncheon Mrs. Barbour was assisted by Mrs. Holm, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Kimball. Those invited were Mesdames Dorr, Lewis, Rodgers, Wilson and Wilson, Raymond and Raymond, Morrill, Imhoff, Reese, Moore, Brown, Watkins, Burnham, Thomas, Fawell, Righter, Coffroth, Green, Wolcott, Helwig, Wright, Kirby, Clark, Yates, Muir, Munger, Lyon, Plummer; Misses Pound, Hardy, Peterson, Kirker and Righter.

Mrs. S. K. Huntsinger entertained thirty ladies Thursday afternoon. A contest in sharpening lead pencils in one minute resulted in honors to Mrs. Day. Historical dates were then given and Mrs. M. D. Welch won a prize for naming the greatest number of events which occurred upon the given dates. A luncheon was served. At 7 o'clock Mr. Huntsinger gave a dinner to six gentlemen. After the banquet sayings of prominent men were submitted. Dr. W. M. Hindman and Mr. L. E. Deemer named an equal number of the authors and in cutting to decide the tie, Mr. Deemer won.

Mrs. R. E. Moore gave a Kensington Monday afternoon for her sister, Miss Peterson. About forty ladies were present. Charades were proposed and prizes were won by Mrs. Gere and Mrs. McMurry. A mandolin orchestra played during the afternoon. American beauties were lavishly used. Mrs. Moore was assisted by her niece, Miss Jessie Moore.

The Century Club closed a most profitable season with a meeting at the residence of Mrs. Jones, on Tuesday afternoon. "Child Study, It's Benefits" was the subject of an interesting discussion participated in by all members present. Mrs. Milton Scott talked of "Charles Dudley Warner, What He is Doing for Education," and Mrs. Hill discussed Lewis Carroll and his writings.

Miss Nellie Cave a pupil of Mrs. Will Owen Jones gave her graduating recital in the university chapel Thursday evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Marion Treat Taylor, who sang Gourod's "More Regal in His Low Estate," and a group, "Moonlight Night," by Von Fioletz, "Mutability" by Max Spicker, and "Spring" by Tosti. Mrs. Taylor's singing constantly increases in artistic excellence, and she was received with cordial demonstrations of favor. Miss Cave has remarkable talent and her recital was a severe test, through which she passed triumphantly. Two heavy numbers, Grigg's sonata opus 7 and Hiller's concerto in F sharp minor were given and two groups of short pieces.

Mrs. Ross Curtice gave a card party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Norman of St. Joseph. Caboose was played and the prize won by Miss Norman. The house was decorated with apple blossoms, lilacs and wild violets. The guests were: Mesdames Crancer, Burr and Burr; Misses Norman, Burr, Burnham, Cochran, Griffith, Garten, Harwood, Hammond, Hoover, Hoover, Hollowbush, Harrison and Harrison, Honeywell, Hooker, Lansing, Leland and Leland, Oakley, Putnam, Righter, Raymond, Welch and Outcalt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall gave a dinner Saturday evening for the members of the Renaissance club. The table was decorated with apple blossoms and smilax. Covers were laid for twelve and a six course dinner was served. Those present were Judge and Mrs. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. McMurry, Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts, Mrs. Hall of Holdrege.

Junior Sorosis met for the last time this season with Mrs. Laurence Fossler on Tuesday afternoon. Plans for the coming year were discussed and the latter part of the afternoon was devoted to sociability and light refreshments. Those present were: Mesdames Ansley, Stevens, Richards, Hardy, Abbott and Helwig; Misses Harwood, Loomis, Kirker and Whiting.

On Saturday evening Miss Edna Curtiss entertained a small company in honor of the college delegates from Minnesota who attended the oratorical contest. Her guests were Misses Anderson, Abbott, Shively, Camp and Curtiss of Seattle; Toan and Hill of Carlton college, Northfield Minnesota; Vance and Fairchild of Doane college, Crete

Second assistant postmaster general W. S. Shallenberger and Mrs. Shallenberger spent an afternoon in Lincoln this week. They came in on a private car from York. While Mr. Shallenberger visited the department Mrs. Shallenberger was entertained by the wives and daughters of the local postal authorities.

Mrs. Griffith gave a dinner at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday noon. After the dinner cards were played, the prize being won by Mrs. Frank Irvine. Mrs. Griffith's guests were Mesdames Woods, Wilson, Irvine, Wright, Buckstaff, Tilton, Hargreaves, Yates, Oakley.

A smoker was given Wednesday evening in the Lincoln Light Infantry armory, to celebrate the first annual reunion of the Second Nebraska regiment. Cards and billiards were played, and coffee and sandwiches were enjoyed.

The last party for this season, of the Cotillion Club will occur this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buckstaff. Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers will lead.

Dr. and Mrs. Hull have returned from a very pleasant wedding journey and are at home 2020 Webster street, Omaha, Neb.

Miss Price will give a complimentary party for the Wednesday afternoon club next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. M. Leonard.

A musicale of college songs will be given by the young ladies of the university this afternoon, at the home of Mrs. A. S. Raymond.

Mrs. F. W. Richardson, of Chicago, who has for several weeks been the guest of Mrs. E. H. Barbour, returned on Friday to her home.

Miss Jessie Lansing entertained a small company at Caboose last evening. The guests were Misses Whiting, Wetzel, Holbrook; Messrs. Mudge, Williams, Blackman and Bechtol.

Miss Clara K. Smith left on Tuesday to be absent from Lincoln all summer. She will spend a month in Chicago, then go to New York for an extended visit.

June 14th has been fixed for the marriage of Miss Madge Rudy to Mr. Harry H. Everett. The wedding will occur in the Episcopal church in Sioux City.

Captain Hastie entertained Company A university cadets at the Phi Delta Theta chapter house on Monday evening.

Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Wright are contemplating a visit to Denver next week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Line, of 1644 B street, on May 9th, a son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George S. Root, of 1129 L street, on May 10, a son.

FASHION.

[Continued from page 5.]

long streamers of wide black taffeta ribbon.

Parasols are difficult, but not so difficult as hats and ruffs. The thing most to be considered in parasols is outline. Never be tempted into carrying a parasol that looks "messy."

Every year new and extraordinary shapes are invented with which to tempt the unwary buyer. But really the smartest parasol has remained unchanged in outline for the past six years, as the best dressed women know. Long ribs very much bowed, small spaces between the ribs and a very long stick are its pronounced characteristics. Put any covering that you please over these outlines, provided you avoid the "messy" look, and the parasol is bound to be a success.

But avoid parasols that are square, parasols that are flat, parasols that are beflounced and befrilled, parasols that have eccentric devices for handles, and above all avoid parasols with a stick that is short of the requisite amount of inches, which should not be less than forty.

SOME COSTUMES WORN BY WOMEN OF THE SMART SET.

The fascination that the "smart set" has for those that are not in it, especially in this country, has always been a mystery to me. If one lived under a monarchy it might be a different matter, perhaps.

Pomp, ceremony and glitter have their attractions for all of us, at all times, whether we are of it or out of it. In less democratic days, when the Court circle and people of high degree rarely mingled with the masses, there was the charm of the unattainable, and I can understand the glamour that must have surrounded them. But to day, both here and in England, where the high and the low rub shoulders most indiscriminately at public places, and order their lives in pretty much the same way, it is difficult