A ROSE THAT THRIVES IN A CEM-ETERY.

The best white rose for cemetery planting is Madame Plantier. It is a variety of somewhat slender growth, and on this account is sometimes termed a half-climber. But it requires no trellis, being much more graceful when allowed to train itself than when given a support of any kind. It throws up a great number of stalks, on which great quantities of milk white double flowers are borne in clusters during June and July.

A Bachelor's Maxim—As a man sews so shall he rip.

CAN ANY ONE TELL WHY?

A brooklet is a little brook
Coursing down the little dell;
A booklet is a little book—
Tales of love they tell;
A streamlet is a little stream
Which reflects the summer's sky;
But a bullet is not a little bull—
Can any one tell why?

HER LITTLE HEART.

Her little heart is like an inn
Where only transient guests may stay,
Who haply there their way may win
Her little heart is like an inn—
Ah, sweet, to leave must I begin,
Who fain would bide herein for aye?
Her little heart is like an inn
Where only transient guests may stay,
—Harper's Bazar.

FRUIT SOUPS FOR A LUNCHEON COURSE.

Fruit soups are made from fruit juices and water, slightly thickened with arrowroot, and sweetened or not, as one pleases. To make an orange soup, add to one pint of orange juice one pint of water, bring just to the boiling point; add a tablespoonful of arrowroot moistened with a little cold water; cook for a moment, and strain; add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and stand aside to cool. When ready to serve, put a tablespoonful of finely cracked ice in the bottom of a lemonade glass, and over it the orange soup. Currant, raspberry, black berry, and cherry soups are all made in the same way. Fruit soup is served as first course at a luncheon.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

A Moment With Zoop.

A Wolf and a Lamb were drinking out of the same Purling Stream when the Wolf angrily blurted out:
"I saw, you! You are Rolling the Mud all up."
"Let her roll," returned the Lamb nonchalantly. Whereupon the Wolf Leaped across the Stream and fell upon the Lamb. The Fierce Creature had hardly attempted to Tear the Lamb's Shoulder, however, before his Teeth broke off Short and fell to the Ground.
"Bah?" said the Lamb; "what a Fool you are to try your Fangs on a Hardened old Tough like myself! Can't you See that I am a Spring Lamb?"—Puck.

Oh, like the "re.

"Oh, strike the lyre!" Thompson roared, And into tales poetic soared.
Of wild adventures weird and rare;
The snake toned down by grizzly bear;
The buffalos that tossed and gored,
The alligators at the ford—
These hunters always hunt abroad,
At home they blow a loud fanfare,
And strike the lyre.

So Thompson told, and maids adored;
But men the stale old lies abhorred;
Each manly eye betrayed a glare,
Each manly lip held back a swear,
They rose, and then with one accord
They struck the liar

"Well, Uncle Mose, I hear you have another pair of twins at y ur house."
"Yas, Missus, yas, we has. Lord bress dey little hearts."
"Have you named them yet?"
"Yes'm. Done named 'em aftah two ob de fust presidents ob dis country."
"Indeed? What two?"
"O e Christofo C'lumbus 'an Jule-yous Cesar, ma'am. We'se great on namin' de children fo' de presidents't our house."

He Was Right.

"Have you any photographs of your children, Mr. Peck?" asked a friend of the Hon. Alpheus Peck.
"I should say I had," answered Mr. Peck. "I've about a bushel of them."
"Why, Alph us!" exclaimed his wife. "Well, haven't we? Haven't we photographs of all four of them, and don't four pecks make a bushel?"

Not in It.

Pops—Black eye, nose out of plumb, clothes torn! Been in a fight, haven't you, my son?
My son—N-N-No, sir.
Pops—What's that you're saying? Why, you must have been in a fight! Now, tell the truth.
My son—Well, pops, there was a fight, but I wasn't in it!

THE COURIER AND THE
NEW YORK WORLD,
Thrice-a-week Edition,

Practically a Daily at the price of a Weekly.

The striking and important events of the last year have established the overwhelming value of THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD to every reader. For an almost nominal sum it has kept its subscribers informed of the progress of all our wars and, moreover, has reported them as promptly and fully as if it were a daily. With our interests still extending throughout the world, with our troops operating in the Philippines, and the great Presidential campaign, too, at hand, its value is further increased.

The motto of THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD is improvement. It strives each year to be better than it was the year before, and public confidence in it is shown by the fact that it now circulates more than twice as many papers every week as any other newspaper, not a daily, published in America.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the COURIER together one year for $1.25.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00
