SOCIETY

On Wednesday, September sixth at high noon, at Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Miss Bess L. Sizer was married to Mr Fred E. Hurd. A large number of friends gathered to witness the ceremony, although the day was one of the most disagreeable of the windy and dusty ones with which we have been lately tormented. Within the cool, beautiful interior of the church, however, this was forgotten, as the assembled people listened to the beautiful Lohengrin wedding music and waited for the bridal party. The church was daintily decorated with greens and seasonable flowers, asters predominating. Luxuriant palms and ferns were grouped about the altar. The square ends of the pews in which the relatives of the bride and groom were seated, were decorated with streamers of white satin ribbon which were held in place with bunches of asters and asparagus ferns. The advent of the wedding party was heralded by a burst of song as the church choir entered slowly, singing the bridal chorus. Following the choir came the wedding party in the following order: Messrs. Edward Streight, Leon Lafferty, Robert Deemer and Walter Ludwig, ushers. The bridesmaid, Miss Luella McClennan exquisitely gowned in pink liberty silk; Master Thomas Usher, a most charming page in a suit of pale blue satin and a wide collar of thread lace, bearing the ring. The bride on the arm of her father, Mr. Edward R. Sizer. She wore a heavy ivory white satin gown en train. Severely simple, its long, graceful lines emphasized the queenly bearing of the tall figure of the bride. The yoke was exquisitely embroidered in silver. A misty bridal veil floated to the hem of her gown. The party was waited for at the chancel rail by the groom and his best man, Mr. Harley Conant and the Rev. Percy Silver both of Omaha, the latter being formerly rector of this parish. He conducted the solemn and impressive marriage ceremony. The organ was played softly and sympathetically during the entire service by Miss Rice. The stately father gave away the bride, and the ceremony proceeded to the end with graceful and dignified precision. The party left the church in the usual order and were driven to the home of the bride's parents, 1740 D street, where a wedding breakfast was served. The bride's mother was gowned in green and white silk trimmed with lace and embroidery. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd intended leaving immediately for a trip on the lakes, but owing to the sudden illness of the bride the departure was postponed until Friday.

ceremony a wedding lunch was served and Mr. and Mrs. Pollock left immediately for St. Louis where they will make their home at 1616 Nebraska Avenue.

The Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity have rented a large house on the corner of Sixteenth and M streets. This is the first girl's fraternity house to open in Lincoln. Some of the out of town members who will room in the house are Miss Douglas of St. Joe, Miss Morgan of Hebron, and Miss Wilson of Hastings. Rose Carson, Winifred Hill, Jean Getner The active resident members are Misses Edgren, Cunningham, Millar, Macfarland, Macmillan, Weeks, Wiggernhorn, and Harper. These have been planning and working to secure a frat house all summer. They have bought the furniture and the house already has the homelike look that only girls know how to secure. Mrs. Macmillan will be the chaperon. The house will open September 12. The Delta Gammas are also looking for a suitable chapter house. The system of chapter houses and a chaperon furnishes young women studying at the university with a home shared with congenial and sympathetic companions. It will not be many years before all the strongest fraternities will have chapter houses. Having once secured a chapter house the alumnae will make bequests of furniture, pictures and money. The esprit du corps is cultivated in fraternities to the point where pride in the organization frequently overbalances individual selfishness hence the gifts and legacies which the fraternities in old college towns enjoy.

Rev. Hiram Bullock, for twelve years pastor of an Iowa City Congregational church, has accepted the pastorate of the Vine street Congregational church and preached his introductory sermon on last Sabbath morning. It is spoken of by members of his congregation as both eloquent and scholarly. Dr. Bullock has chosen the Lincoln field for reasons which make that portion of Lincoln which has chosen him proud. Because of its reputation as a city in which knowledge-getting is held in higher esteem than money-getting and because the educational interests of the state centre here. Dr. Bullock is much interested in the student, and is well informed concerning our educational institutions. He is an addition not to the Congregational church circles only, but to the city. Dr. Bullock's family came this week and their home will be at Twenty-fifth and U streets.

Married at Council Bluffs on Wednesday September 7, 1899, at the home of the bride Mr. Royal O. Babcock of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Babcock, to Miss Mary Collins of Council Bluffs. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Wall, rector of the Episcopal church. The wedding guests were few, only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom being present. Mr. Babcock is a very successful business man, being assistant chief inspector of the Nebraska telephone company's lines at Omaha. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Babcock will be at home at Twentyfourth and Douglas streets, Omaha, Nebraska.
