

THE OLDER LOVER

When as a boy I loved you, dear,
'Twas Love himself I loved the best,
And I, Love's music in my ear,
Forgot that one could be more blest,
Forgot your joy was more to me
Than joy of love could ever be.
At last itself my dull heart knew
And turned from Love, my dear, to you.

F. C. PATMER in Harper's Weekly

ALL OF THESE SONGS FREE.

Announcement was made last week of a Sunday World Music Album of ten songs to be issued weekly. Following is the complete list:

"In the Shadow of the Carolina Hills," by George Taggart and Max S. Witt, authors of "The Moth and the Flame."
"If All the Girls Were Like You," by Charles Graham, author of "Two Little Girls in Blue."

"I'm nothing but a Big Wax Doll," by Malcolm Williams, author of "My Ann Elizer."

"You'll Have to Transfer," by Abe Holzmann, composer of "Smoky Mokes" the greatest cakewalk bit of the season.

"Sweet Norine," by Gussie L. Davis, author of "The Baggage Coach Ahead."

"Snap-Shot Sal," by Williams and Walker, the two real "coons," authors of "I Don't Like No Cheap Man."

"Tell Mother Not to Worry," by Louis Myll, composer of Coontown Carnival Cakewalk."

"Prancing Pickaninnies," by Max Dreyfus, composer of "A Carolina Cakewalk."

"My Georgia Lady Love," by Sterling Howard and Emerson, authors of "Halle, Ma Baby."

"There Ain't No Use to Keep on Hanging 'Round," by Irving Jones, author of "Get Your Money's Worth."

One song each week for ten weeks. First song published Sept. 3, "In the Shadow of the Carolina Hills."

The entire set is to be given away with ten Sunday Worlds, and will be sent postpaid, including ten Sunday World Magazines, Art Portfolio and Comic Weeklies for 50 cents. Send 50 cents today, tomorrow or next week. Don't wait later than next week. This is a most exceptional offer and is only put forth to advertise the great Sunday World. Address, Music Editor, The World, Pulitzer Building, New York.

Heavy Earrings.

In the early days of Rome the women of that city wore such heavy earrings that they made their ears sore and sometimes tore the lobes. There were doctors whose business was chiefly to heal ears thus injured.

Expensive Peace.

Almost every nation, with the exception of the United States and Great Britain, is overtaxed to meet the expenses of maintaining its army and navy. France runs behind to the amount of $1,000,000,000, Austria has an annual deficit of $80,000,000, Russia of $50,000,000 and Italy of $30,000,000.

Onions Specific for Epidemics.

Onions are commended as a specific against epidemics if sliced and kept in a room, where they will absorb any atmospheric poison.

Twelve Business Maxims.

The president of the London chamber of commerce gives twelve maxims which he has tested through years of business experience, and which he recommends as tending to ensure success: 1—Have a definite aim. 2—Go straight for it. 3—Master all details. 4—Always know more than you are expected to know. 5—Remember that difficulties are only made to overcome. 6—Treat failures as stepping stones to further effort. 7—Never put your hand out farther than you can draw it back. 8—At times be bold; always prudent. 9—The minority often beats the majority in the end. 10—Make good use of other men's brains. 11—Listen well; answer cautiously; decide promptly. 12—Preserve, by all means in your power, "a sound mind in a sound body."

The Great Rock Island Route is placing Interchangeable Mileage Books on sale at all coupon offices west of Missouri river. These books are good on 37 different railroads and will be a great advantage to commercial men and travelers. The net rate is 2 1/2c per mile in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Hissed His Own Farce.

When Lamb's farce of "Mr. H." was acted he gave a curious instance of one of his singular traits. There were few evidences of humor in the play and the construction was undramatic; still, there was much to show that it was written by a man infinitely superior to the farce writers of the day. Toward the end of the play, when it was evident to all that it was unmistakably damned, the attention of the audience was attracted to a very loud and violent hissing. What was the astonishment of Lamb's friends to find this expression of vigorous dissent came from Lamb himself, who, when questioned as to his motive after the fall of the curtain, stammered: "I was afraid they would take me to be the author."

THE COURIER AND THE NEW YORK WORLD, Thrice-a-week Edition,

Practically Daily at the price of a Weekly.

The striking and important events of the last year have established the overwhelming value of THE THRIECA-WEEK WORLD to every reader. For an almost nominal sum it has kept its subscribers informed of the progress of all our wars and, moreover, has reported them as promptly and fully as if it were a daily. With our interests still extending throughout the world, with our troops operating in the Philippines, and the great Presidential campaign, too, at hand, its value is further increased.

The motto of THE THRIECA-WEEK WORLD is improvement. It strives each year to be better than it was the year before, and public confidence in it is shown by the fact that it now circulates more than twice as many papers every week as any other newspaper, not a daily, published in America.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the COURIER together one year for $1.25.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00

Globe Sights.

If you know that the bride has made her own wedding outfit give the groom a particularly glad hand of congratulation; he has struck a prize. After a woman has been married to a man as long as a year she deserves as handsome a writing desk as he can give her for pay for the letters she has written for him to his kin. An Atchison man treats his wife so mean when they are alone that she has appealed to her parents to provide her with a chaperone. A chaperone should be provided for married people, anyway; they are always more considerate and polite when a third person is around.—Atchison Globe.
