An Indian afternoon was given by the ladies of the Home Missionary society of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon. A wigwam was erected in the parlors of the church and was filled with blankets and curios, and Indian posters covered the walls. About one hundred ladies were present and listened to a paper on the work done by the presidents of all of the Presbyterian churches in America among the Indians and specially the work of Miss McBeth among the Nez Perce's. Miss Larsing followed the paper with both instrumental and vocal music and Mrs. Le Gore read a leaflet on the difference between the English child and the Indian papoose. The former is carried on the mother's breast and looks forward, while the latter is strapped on the mother's back and looks backward. Mrs. C. M. Sheldon of Holdrege gave an interesting talk on the Indian question, touching especially the idea of education among the Indians that is carried out by Major Pratt in the Carlisle school of Pennsylvania. Pop-corn chrysanthemums were given the guests and a social time was held immediately following the program.

A very pretty reception was given by Miss Morgan and Miss Lulu Wirt, on Friday evening at Walsh hall. Mrs. Morgan of Hebron and Mrs. Wirt of Council Bluffs assisted their daughters in receiving. The dancing hall and parlors were decorated in red. Miss Edith Foster and Miss Helen Laws served ices during the evening.
