SOCIETY

The Auditorium ball next week is the event of the year and for that matter for five years. It is long ago that since the last charity ball. Lincoln society people are lacking in that spirit which inspires the people of New York, of Chicago, even of so small a place as Denver, to unite and make a public occasion brilliant. It is essentially provincial for ladies to hesitate about wearing their best frocks "on account of the crush and because everybody will be there." That is the sort of remark that some of the economical but pretentious members, of Lincoln society are making. Why should the spirit of mortal be proud? And is there a difference in the worms of the dust? It is a long time waiting for the members of society to learn their duties as brilliant ornaments of a municipal occasion.
