Matinee Musicale Recital.

The ladies of the Matinee Musicale devoted their third artists' recital on Tuesday evening to the cause of the University alumni organ. The organ was played by Miss Nellie Morrill, of Rockford, Illinois, a concert organist of brilliant attainments. Miss Morrill's style recalls the playing of her distinguished master, Clarence Eddy. She offered a more pleasing program and the organ was in better condition and therefore rather more interesting.

Miss Morrill has a commanding stage presence. She has so much strength that at no time did the mastery of the great organ seem a task to her. Her execution is brilliant, her registration excellent, and in the last number the playing was notably good.

- Bach—Toccat and Fugue D Minor.
- Schumann—Canon in B Minor.
- Boeliman—Suite Gothique, Choral Minuet, Prayer Finale.
- Guilman—Lamentation.
- Wolstenholme—The Answer.
- Wolstenholme—Caprice.
- Hollida—Nuptial Benediction.
- Bartlett—Toccat.

Miss Morrill's program was broken in the middle to allow the insertion of a beautiful "song cycle" by Jadassohn, by the ladies of the Matinee Musicale. This "Midsummer Day" cantata was given under the leadership of Mrs. P. V. M. Raymond, always an inspiring leader, choruses were sung in such fact perfection, humanly speaking. The poem was read by Mr. John Randolph. The solo parts were taken by Mrs. E. Lewis Baker, Miss Anna Gertrude Childs and Miss Trigg. Miss Olive Shute, Miss Grace Reynolds and Mr. Trigg sang the trio.

with all the other fine ware in the world. It was Marie Longworth of Cincinnati, Ohio, who, after many years of labor and experimenting, brought it to perfection. No two pieces of this ware are alike. Miss Rogers showed vases, pitchers, plates, etc., of every ware mentioned. Mrs. Hall thanked Mrs. Brock and Miss Rogers for the enjoyable and instructive afternoon. The last meeting of this department will be held in two weeks at Mrs. Hall's home. The officers for next year will be elected on that date.

The current topics and American history departments of the Plattsmouth Woman's club met on Friday evening, April 20, at the club parlors. The former, at 7:45, was led by Mrs. Howland and included a number of interesting subjects, among others a review of "Janice Meredith." The history department had the pleasure of listening to an address, entitled "Political Parties," by Mr. George M. Spurlock. Mrs. J. D. McBride was hostess.

On Saturday afternoon, April 14th, the Zetetic club of Weeping Water met with Mrs. Teegarden. Responses from Poor Richard. Mrs. Doelien read a concise paper on system in the kitchen. Mrs. Dunham offered good receipts for roast meats, breads, cakes, desserts and croquettes. A paper from the Reciprocity bureau, written by Mrs. Buckley of the Stromsburg club on "What we may do for our public schools," was read by the secretary. Miss Bruce sang very prettily a negro melody, "Down on the Ohio."

Reports of the Woman's club and Sorosis of Lincoln; the Omaha Woman's club; the Fairbury club and the cozy club of Tecumseh and some resolutions by the Stromsburg club were received too late in the week to publish.
