SOCIETY

Already the do-nothing days shorten, and plans for the remainder of the summer and early fall are now materializing behind the arbors and draperies where lounging robes and negligee laces flutter. Club meetings dissolve into porch parties, some early tourists return, but more are leaving before August wilts the last breath of enterprise. Meanwhile the cooled lawns, where the dust from the feet of last week's political sojourners has been thoroughly washed away, tempt even a greater number of early morning and late evening gatherings. Many of these are informal and therefore most comfortable, the coming together of congenial folk for congenial times,—society in fatigue uniform.

The L. A. Kensington club has substituted monthly evening gatherings for fortnightly afternoon meetings, committees of two being appointed to have charge of arrangements for entertaining the respective meetings. On Friday evening, July 14, under the auspices of Mrs. W. J. Turner and Mrs. O. N. Humphrey, the members of the club, with their husbands, enjoyed a trolley ride to Havelock. They assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turner at half past seven o'clock, and returned after the ride, when refreshments and a most entertaining social time were enjoyed. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames A. E. Kennard, R. T. Van Brunt, C. I. Jones, Turner, Chapin, Humphrey, Rewick, Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson; Mesdames Wendling, Billmeyer, Patrick. The guests were Mesdames R. N. Turner, George Fawell, Polk, Andrews, Canfield; Mr. and Mrs. Garoutte; Misses Polk, Andrews, Turner, Annie Jones; Mr. Hutchins; Master Robert Turner.

Mr. Derrick N. Lehmer, A. M. University of Nebraska, Ph. D. University of Chicago, was married on Thursday, July the twelfth, at Decatur, Illinois, to Miss Clara Eunice Mitchell of Chicago University. The ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Doctor and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, the bridal pair departing for a tour through the Rockies to Berkeley, California, where they will be at home after August the fifteenth. In the two years since Mr. Lehmer has been directly associated with the Nebraska University, his work has not been a disappointment to the friends who knew him here. Few have done as well any one of the many things in which Mr. Lehmer has excelled. As amateur composer of unique musical compositions, he is perhaps best known though this, like his proficiency in whistling, violin playing and story writing, was but one of the ways in which he amused himself and others. He was graduated from the classical course in '93, having spent the vacations of '91 and '92 surveying with a party of civil engineers in Wyoming. He was a member of the English club and of the Union Literary Society. In '98 he left the position of instructor in mathematics in the Nebraska University, having been selected to a fellowship in the Chicago University, out of a large number of candidates. During the two years at Chicago, besides securing a bride, Mr. Lehmer has prepared several papers for the "Annals of Mathematics" a Chicago publication of formidable aspect. "Rational Triangles" and "Concerning the Tractrix

A wedding under circumstances of most unusual sadness, was that of Mr. Clare Briggs, well known in University circles, and Miss Ruth Owens, on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Briggs had but just started from New York, where he is employed as cartoonist on the Journal of that city, when he received word at Buffalo of the sudden death of his father, Mr. N. P. Briggs, in Oklahoma. While the young man proceeded on his way to Lincoln, the widowed mother and three brothers whom he had expected to meet, returned to the old home in Dixon, Illinois, where the father was buried. After the very quiet ceremony performed at the bride's home, Thirteenth and F streets, by Reverend Long of the Second Presbyterian church, the bridal couple started
