

ber, and a few other friends were the invited guests. A list of questions, the answers of which were colors had been prepared, and the girls vied with each other to see who was the adept in this art. Miss De Witt secured the prize, a lovely bon bon dish. Plates were laid for sixteen in the dining room where a delightful luncheon was served. Those present were: Misses Dinkel of St. Louis, Missouri, Anthony, Barrick, Gregory, Leese, Edith Erford, Shaffer, Howland, Stearns, Mabel Erford, DeWitt, Clinton, JoDon, Schmidt, Tyler and Mrs. Arden Chapman.

Mr. George Morrow and Mrs. Veda Shepherd Morrow, both well known University of Nebraska graduates, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Marshall. They bring news of the Lincoln contingent in Atlanta, where western men are finding more congenial atmosphere than do New Englanders in helping the Georgians develop the resources of their fields and quarries. Little Miss Morrow who accompanies her father and mother is a dainty southern lady fresh from the land where ladies go shopping in mull and gauzy laces, and where the office girl in golf skirt is almost unknown.

Mrs. Joseph Wurzburg and Mrs. L. W. Pomerene and children, left the early part of the week for Chicago. Mrs. Wurzburg will visit relatives in Chicago for the next six weeks, while Mrs. Pomerene will visit friends for a few days in Chicago and then go east as far as Mentor, Ohio, and there with her children spend the next six weeks on Lake Erie.

Doctor Louise Pound was granted a doctor's degree by the University of Heidelberg on Tuesday, July the twenty-fourth. Doctor Pound's thesis was on Anglo Saxon which she finished before the semester began last fall. She studied and was examined on Old High German and Old French besides early English. She was graduated with honor. Most people are familiar with O. H. G. and O. F. mainly through consultations of the dictionary. Doctor Pound's familiarity with these ancient dialects entitles her to the profound respect of all those who have but met them in the dictionary.

Mrs. Snider of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, spent last week with Mrs. D. A. Risser, at 1745 C street. On Saturday a ten o'clock breakfast was partaken of by twelve ladies who came in honor of Mrs. Snider. Carnations were the decorations used, and a most enjoyable and delightfully informal party was enjoyed. Mrs. Snider returned on Monday to Mt. Pleasant. Mrs. George Throop of the same city is now the guest of Mrs. Risser.

The fishing party that left Lincoln a week ago for Billings, Montana, is enjoying a splendid outing having safely landed their fifteen hundred pounds of baggage, and stored away hams, bacon and other preserves against possible disappointment to the piscatorial artists Messrs. W. C. Phillips, Aaron Buckstaff, Paul Hunter of Omaha, and Constable Ernest Hunter, are of the expedition.

On Tuesday, Mr. Hallett came down from the Black Hills with a tub of fish caught in the mountain streams. Sheriff Branson is spending his vacation also in the country where the Homestead mines every month issue their three or four twenty-nine-thousand dollar bricks, and honeycomb the foundations of Spearfish, Lead and Terraville.

Mr. S. M. Melick, who went with the Billings party on Thursday to Edgemont, thence to the Black Hills, returned on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall with their guest, Mrs. Taber of Manila, left on Sunday for New York. They will be absent about six weeks. Mrs. Taber is remembered by Lincoln friends with pleasure. She had a wonderful contralto voice which was so affected by diphtheria that she no longer sings. Mr. and Mrs. Taber have been in Manila isle of Luzon for the past year.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burr will be glad to learn of the success of their daughter, Helen Marie as a harpist. She has been one of the attractions at the assembly, Ocean Grove, this summer and has had many desirable engagement in the east. She has been heard and highly complimented by such musicians of note as Maud Morgan, Matherine Ruth Hayman, Mrs. Theodore Sutro, Richard Burmeister and others.

The Q. A. T. girls and their friends picnicked at Lincoln park on Tuesday evening, chaperoned by Mrs. R. H. Stewart. The party was composed of Miss Burleigh of New York city, Mrs. R. H. Stewart, Misses McKay, Jo Don, Barrick, Gregory, Leese, Erford, Anthony, Biltgen, Shaffer and Clinton; Messrs. Evans, Hawley, Morse, Smith, Ewing, Anderson, Patterson, Hager, Crawford, Shaffer, Swain and Leese.

Mrs. Emma Boose Tucker, who is studying in the Woman's Medical College of Chicago University, passed through Lincoln on Friday, enroute for Kansas City, and will spend Sunday with Miss Myrtle Wheeler, 2545 Q street

Mrs. W. R. Kelley and Miss Kelley of Omaha, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Houtz.

Mrs. Thomas Benton, with her mother, Mrs. McManigal, and her daughter, Miss Hazel Benton, went to Chicago on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Marshall have gone to Boston.

Miss Harley has returned from a visit with friends in Kearney.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Cooper spent Wednesday in York.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Belcher have returned from an extended wedding journey in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ackerman and children, Elsie and Artie, have gone to New York and Pennsylvania to visit friends.

Mrs. R. H. Oakley returned last week from a pleasant visit with friends in Omaha. Her daughter, Miss Maude Oakley, will return in a few days.

Miss Frances Duncombe, one of the University teachers in the Lincoln High school, leaves this week for Dubuque, and other Iowa towns along the river and among the forests that have shaded her kinfolk for a third of a century.

Mrs. C. A. Turner of South Bend, Indiana, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Hawes, and her sister and brother, Miss and Mr. Hawes.

Miss Ruth Bryan started to Denver on Wednesday. She is the guest of Ex-Governor and Mrs. Patterson and goes with them to Grand Lake, the Patterson's summer home.

Mrs. George Bonnell, who has been at Lake Beulah, Wisconsin, for several weeks, has been very ill. She is much better and is convalescing slowly.

Miss Alexander of Omaha, returned to Omaha after a visit with Mrs. Morrison. Miss Alexander will leave on August the eighteenth for a trip abroad. She will spend the winter in Europe.

Mr. David T. Lineen of Chicago, is in the city, a guest at the home of Mrs. Ed Fitzgerald.

Mrs. E. Benjamin Andrews and Mr. G. A. Andrews have arrived in their new home. Doctor Andrews is expected in Lincoln soon. Mrs. Andrews is arranging the house formerly occupied by Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean. The date fixed for Doctor Andrews' inauguration is September the twenty-second.

First Church of Christ (Scientist), Fourteenth and K streets, Arthur C. Ziemer, C. S. First Reader. Sunday morning services at 10:30; subject, "Spirit." The sermon consists of the reading of selections from the Bible and the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures." Wednesday evening meeting at eight. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Mabel Tuttle is visiting her sister in Chicago.

A summer hostess is at her wit's end to entertain guests. House parties catch ennui, if the hostess is not fertile in invention and quick to observe the first symptom of weariness, and "change the game." Dancing is too much of an exertion, and cards are a winter's evening, under-the-lamp diversion, much too hot for summer. This old game is a good one for porches and lawns. The hostess must provide each man with a cheap straw hat, which he must trim with all kinds of odds and ends of trimming, collected for the purpose. The young women must make a neck-tie from bits of silk and satin that the hostess provides. This "pin and thimble" contest arouses much merriment, and when all is ready a vote is taken as to which is the prettiest hat and the best-made tie, and prizes awarded accordingly. As a trophy of the evening every girl carries home one of the hats, and every man a tie. Another contest certain to cause much fun is a "smelling bee." Into small bottles are put all sorts of different liquids, and in papers folded like powder-papers are put spices and different chopped and powdered articles. Every one is provided with a card and pencil, and indicates his guesses of the contents of the numbered bottles or packages. A prize goes to the most successful guesser. A tasting contest on the same order arouses fun, and an amateur auction is another good entertainment. For the latter the hostess provides a number of packages, large and small, wrapped in tissue-paper—any kind of amusing trifles. Each guest has a certain number of beans, and an amateur auctioneer (who must be witty) auctions off the packages. Nothing is opened until it has been knocked down to the highest bidder, and all must bid in ignorance of what they are getting. An entertainment of another order is where on the back of each guest is pinned, on entering, a card bearing in large, black letters the name of some famous person in past or present fiction or history. Every one is unconscious of whom he represents, but must guess his name from the way in which he is addressed and talked to by the others.

OMAHA GOLF.

The match game at the Country Club Saturday afternoon was the first scratch game played—no handicaps being allowed to any one of the contestants and in the face of the fierce wind that drove over the links from the south the scores were remarkably good. Mr. Foye made the first nine holes in 48 and the second in 44, making a total of 92.

Mr. Taylor himself will have to look to his laurels—41 is his best score. The other contestants and their scores were as follows: Mr. Foye, 92; Mr. E. Morrison, 102; Mr. T. L. Davis, 106; Mr. Thomas L. Kimball, 109; Mr. L. W. Gaylord, 111; Mr. G. W. Wattles, 114; Mr. E. V. Lewis, 116; Mr. A. Kinsler, 117; Mr. W. D. Bancker, 118; Mr. Leroy Austin, 118; Mr. J. B. Rahm, 118; Mr. W. W. Magee, 119; Mr. Fred Hamilton, 122; Mr. H. T. Lemist, 129; Mr. F. A. Smith, 120; Dr. Lyman, 131; Mr. A. J. Love, 131; Mr. A. W. Redick, 132; Mr. J. J. Dickey, 128.

At five o'clock traps and carriages full of gaily dressed people began to arrive for dinner and the hop afterward. To accommodate the unusually large crowd a long table was placed at the end of the hall and here Mr. and Mrs. Beeson and Mr. and Mrs. Barlow entertained a number of their friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Lew Marshall of Lincoln, Mr. W. Farnham Smith. At another of the small tables were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith and Dr. and Mrs. J. Cameron Anderson. At another Mr. and Mrs. Cowgill, Mr. and Mrs. Guiou, and near them Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Lemist, Miss Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkendall. About eight-thirty the hall was cleared for dancing and the piano furnished all the music that was necessary for so informal an occasion.

Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cartan, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers of Dubuque, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barker, Miss Peck, Miss Crounse, Miss Marie Crounse, Miss Cleveland of Chicago, Miss Mount, Miss Oakley of Lincoln, Miss Emma Wakeley, Miss Thomas, Miss Lewis, Miss Gates, Miss Margaret Pritchett, Miss Moore, Miss Mercer, Miss Ella Cotton, Miss Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Bancker, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redick, Mr. Earl Gannett, Captain Erwin, Captain Skerritt, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Foye, Miss McShane, Miss Mae McShane, Mr. Herbert Gannett, Mr. Frank Hamilton, Dr. Lyman, Dr. Middleton, Mr. Strickland, Mr. Clark Redick, Mr. Ben Cotton, Mr. John Redick, Mr. Thomas Davis, Mr. Fred Hamilton, Mr. Haskell, Mr. Sam Burns, Mr. Hal Yates, Mr. Fred Nash, Miss Lindsay, Mr. Young, Mr. Shiverick, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Kinsler, Mr. Al Kinsler and Mr. McCord. And it was very nice to see some of the older married women out, like Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Kountze, Mrs. Belden and Mrs. Pritchett.

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock found Mr. Bancker at his post, the first tee, pencil and book in hand, to take down the names of those entering the ladies' handicap match game, to decide upon the handicap to be allowed each one and to collect the entrance fee of one ball from each contestant. The position was a perilous one for any man, but Mr. Bancker proved himself equal to the occasion by showing neither fear nor favor, and the players were started off in good order a little after four thirty o'clock. Miss Dewey, the only one playing scratch, led off with Miss Helen McShane, followed by Mrs. Sprague and Miss Doane, Mrs. Bancker and Miss Mae McShane, Miss Ada Kirkendall and Miss Bessie Brady. By six o'clock the game was finished and the scores stood as follows:

Miss Dewey.....	65—0—65
Miss Ellen McShane.....	74—6—68
Mrs. Sprague.....	75—8—67
Miss Doane.....	79—8—71
Mrs. Bancker.....	90—8—88
Miss Mae McShane.....	68—3—83
Miss Bessie Brady.....	101—10—91
Miss Ada Kirkendall.....	79—10—69

The balls were divided between Miss Dewey and Mrs. Sprague.—The Excelsior.
