SOCIETY

Preparations for the state Federation of club women which will meet here on October 9th, 10th and 11th, are occupying the minds and the hands of Lincoln women. The meetings will be held in the First Congregational church where, in the basement, luncheons and dinners will be served. A reception will be given the delegates and visitors on Wednesday the tenth of October by Governor and Mrs. Poynter at the executive residence. Mrs. Field will give a dinner to the Nebraska delegation to Milwaukee and to the visiting lionesses Miss French and Mrs. Decker. Mrs. Richards will give a dinner in honor of Miss French and Mrs. Decker and there are a number of other functions in glorification of the occasion, in the air. Meal tickets will be sold by the Congregational women, three for a dollar. The committee is busy securing lodging places for the delegates and doubtless all the regular delegates will be accommodated. Miss French will lecture and Mrs. Decker will talk in her characteristically breezy and spontaneous way. Club women in different parts of the state are getting acquainted and this acquaintance, sympathy and willingness to work together are invaluable qualities of good citizenship. And to be a good citizen is to attain the character of an average angel. From the coming meeting a deepening of acquaintance and sympathy is confidently expected.

On last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hargreaves celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage with a reception and silver wedding supper. The house was decorated with cut flowers and palms. Mrs. Hargreaves wore a gray gown the shade of that worn on her bridal day. Misses Alice and Margaret Hargreaves and Miss Schidlowaki assisted her in serving the guests who were: Doctor and Mrs. F. L. Wharton, Messrs. and Mesdames A. E. Hargreaves, W. B. Hargreaves, Hale, T. F. Laach, Fred Reimers, J. C. Bahls, H. Fletcher, G. R. Kimmell, R. Whitehead, McLeod, Fred White, M. R. Cross, W. W. Cross, H. William Smith, Bert O. Wilson, L. J. Byer, Ed Stagg, C. S. Rainbolt, T. G. Kelley, M. Grace, A. L. Manchester, J. J. Ayres, F. A. Sidles, J. M. Elliott, H. B. Grainger, J. L. Ryons, Bert Acker, T. H. Pratt, Allen W. Griffith, C. C. Pace, W. H. Boney, Mr. J. P. Griffith, Miss Griffith, Mrs. R. L. Hyde, Mr. E. B. Hyde, Miss Mary Nicholson, Mrs. Dora Doyle, Miss Amber Barnaby, Mrs. White, Miss Alice White, Professor Easterday, Miss Laura Easterday, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. J. R. Phillips of St. Paul, Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bishop of Pleasant Dale, Mr. W. L. Leigh of Beatrice, Mr. R. E. Archer of Omaha, Mr. James Burgees of Yankee Hill, Mr. M. Wilson of Omaha, Mr. P. Youngers of Geneva, Mr. L. Plowman of Omaha, Mr. J. Edmondson of Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Newman of Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. G. W. Clossen of Topeka, Kansas, and Mr. Frank Pearce of Burlington.

Married at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride, 850 North Twenty-fifth street, Miss Lolo E. DeWitt to Mr. Samuel W. North, by the Reverend Bullock, pastor of the Vine street Congregational church. About one hundred guests witnessed the ceremony and remained for the reception which followed. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Eunice Regnier, as ring bearer. A number of young ladies assisted with the refreshments. Mr. North is a son of the late Jacob North and is the junior member of the firm of Jacob North & Company. The bride has taught school in this city for the past two years. They will be at home after October the first, at 1118 H street.

Nebraska people will be interested in excerpts from a letter from Mrs. Stotsenburg, written from Asbury Park, New York. Mrs. Stotsenburg is just recovering from severe nervous exhaustion. She says, referring to a draft of $397.19 forwarded to her by the editor of this paper, that:

"I desire to thank those kind and generous friends who having kept Colonel Stotsenburg in loving memory, have sent this evidence of their sympathy to the survivors of him who sought and succeeded in making Nebraska's patriotic sons invincible! Little did I think, when in that torrid sun-scorched clime, I watched the splendid bearing of the fearless First Nebraska, and saw the pride of my gallant husband, as he put those brave men through skilled manoeuvres, they would soon be entrapped by their vigilant foes, and he rescued at the cost of their colonel. To my last hour on earth, shall the memory of the First Nebraska live in my heart of hearts, and my children be taught to love the regiment whose hearts their father won. 'Tis one of my saddest pleasures to remember that the splendid results achieved by the First, were largely attributable to its colonel's entire devotion, to its welfare and technique.

One of the most charming affairs of the season was the green and white luncheon given by Mrs. W. C. Wilson at her home on Wednesday. After the cloudy weather of last week, Wednesday's sunshine was a relief and hostesses and guests alike rejoiced as the sun streamed through the western windows lighting up the flowers and making the rooms alive with color. The guests gathered in the reception room and library which were filled with roses, the mantels being banked in bright hued foliage. The luncheon was served in the music and dining rooms where the decorations were ferns and clematis. The dainty place cards were green and white, four leaved clovers scattered on a white ground. The guests were: Mesdames Bulger of Chicago, Lambertson, A. S. Raymond, R. H. Oakley, Crittenden, Lew Marshall, Carl Funke, Levering, Gregory, Burnham, Leonard, Hargreaves, Wright, D. E. Thompson, W. F. Kelley, F. W. Brown, Ladd, Irvine, Yates, Dudley, Mitchell, Ross Curtice, Barbour, Tilton and Buckstaff.

The City Improvement society met on Thursday morning in the Union club library. The chairmen of several school districts offered reports of the work done by the children during the summer. The most encouraging report of all was read by Mrs. Dean of the Bancroft school district. The children have taken great interest in the work proposed by the City Improvement Society. That section of the city is occupied by the poorer people and the way the children have collected and burnt rubbish
