...Perfection...

Absolute perfection is often claimed for shoes that are simply stylish. Shoes that are plenty stylish enough when new often lack durability and comfort. All our shoes are good. The higher priced ones are absolutely perfect in every detail. The cheaper ones, of course, can not be.

SOCIETY

After the New Year's festivities and the inaugural ball, society is content with a little quiet. Perhaps the past week was as gay as usual, but the coming in of the new century brought many parties, making the following week seem very dull indeed.

Married, at the home of the bride's mother on North Sixteenth street, at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, Miss Mary R. Campbell to Doctor David R. Major by the Rev. Lewis Gregory. The house was decorated with pink flowers, palms and southern smilax. The bride's gown was white with valenciennes inserting and the long veil was fastened with white hyacinth. Lucille Lees in white and carrying flowers, was her immediate courier. Mrs. Fling played the wedding march. The bridal party stood under a canopy of green in the drawing-room. Mrs. Taylor was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Fling and Mrs. Hill presided at the refreshment tables, assisted by Miss Herron and Miss Montgomery. The guests were received by Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, Mrs. A. K. Griffith, Mrs. Lees and Miss Conklin. All the guests were relatives and most intimate friends. Miss Campbell has been at the head of the Latin department of the high school for five years. Dr. Major is a member of the faculty of Columbia university. Dr. and Mrs. Major will be at home after February 1st, 1901, at 1270 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City. Miss Campbell gave a farewell supper to her associates in the teaching profession on last Friday evening. Misses Conklin, Tuttle, Tuttle, Wing, Herron, Barr, Kirker, Montgomery, Bridge, Badger, Wirt, Long, Tremaine, Case, Duncan, Towne, Pound, Pound, Kingsley and Hullhorst; Mrs. Field, Dr. Bolton, Dr. Major, Mr. Prevely, Dr. Davenport, Mr. Congdon, Mr. Jeffords, Mr. Philpott and Mr. H. G. Shedd, were the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Auld celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary on last Monday evening, by giving a reception to about two hundred of their friends. Large vases of white carnations and stately palms adorned the reception room. Red carnations were in the library and hall, and pink in the dining room. From a table covered with Battenburg lace over pink, Mrs. Jansen served punch and Mrs. McGrew poured coffee. Misses Murphy, Roberts, Gere, Poynter and Powers assisted. Mrs. Auld was gowned in gray silk muslin over lavender satin; Miss Auld wore a dainty cream silk, and Miss Alice Auld wore a simple white organdie. Mr. and Mrs. Auld were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Tseters and Judge and Mrs. Tibbette. The Ideal Mandolin club furnished exquisite music.

The new state officers and their deputies have nearly all secured homes in Lincoln. Governor Dietrich is now occupying the governor's mansion at Fifteenth and H streets, near the capitol. His private secretary, Mr. H. C. Lindsay, is occupying the home of Congressman E. J. Burkett, at 1544 B street. Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Savage will make the Lincoln hotel their headquarters for the winter. Secretary of State George W. Marsh and Deputy Frank McCartney will soon have their families installed at 1044 H street. Auditor Charles Weston and family are living at 324 South Thirteenth street. Deputy Auditor George Anthes and family are at the Lindell at present. State Treasurer William Stuefer will not remove his family to Lincoln until spring. He is now at the Lindell hotel, but will soon remove to 901 J street, where Deputy Treasurer Heilman and family are to reside. State Superintendent William K. Fowler and family live at 1707 A street and Deputy McBrien and family are at 1717 A street. Attorney General F. A. Prout will not remove his family from Beatrice. Deputy Attorney General Norris Brown will make his home at the Lindell, but may not remove his family from Kearney. Mr. George D. Follmer, commissioner of public lands and buildings, lives at 1542 P street. Deputy Commissioner H. M. Eaton lives at 2819 Q street.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ladd gave a party in honor of the Misses Crouse. The guests were the active and alumnae members of the Theta fraternity. They played "A Culinary Courtship," whose intricate course was unwound most quickly by Miss Carson and Miss Burr. Delicate refreshments were served. The guests were Mesdames Will Hardy, F. W. Eason, Norman Belcher, F. M. Fling, T. L. Lyon, F. Clements; Misses Crouse, Carson, Barr, Lida Miller, McHenry, Clark, Morgao, Wirt, Ruth Macfarland, Douglas, Coat, Douglas, Agnew, Loomis, Foster, Harper, Woodford, Garey, Stewart and Russell.

At Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas' Wednesday evening card party for Major and Mrs. Stoney, and Mrs. Lawton, six handed euchre was played. Mrs. N. C. Abbott won the royal prize and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff won the prize for "shouting." Mr. Will Green won the royal and Mr. Frank Woods the "shouting" prize. Prizes for shouting are a new feature of card parties. If a player sees by his hand that he can play the game alone without the widow he says, "I shout;" if he wins every point it counts him fifteen. If a player can play the game alone by using the widow he says, "I cheer;" if he wins every point he is counted ten, but no prize is given.

The card parties given by Mrs. Trap-hagen and Mrs. Stonebraker on Thursday and Friday afternoons of last week were enjoyed by about fifty ladies each day. The game played on Thursday was four-handed euchre. The prizes were won by Mesdames Fling, Morris Friend and Rosa Funke. Mrs. Trap-hagen and Mrs. Stonebraker were assisted in serving by Mesdames A. W. Field and Helwig, and Misses Bradt and Hays. Six handed euchre was played on Friday, Mesdames Lee Arnett, J. H. Stephens and Miss Erb proving themselves the most successful. The assisting ladies were Mesdames Hays, Warner, Spencer and J. C. Seacrest.

The Thaliens received at the home of Miss Estella Smith from two until five o'clock on Thursday, January the 3rd. Carnations, the sorority flower, added to the beauty of the rooms. In convenient places, cozy corners were arranged where the guests could linger and sup chocolate served from an old fashioned granite pot, by Miss Marie
