

The train will start from New York City but any one who chooses may join it en route. Each special will be limited to one hundred travelers, but as many specials as there are hundreds of women to go, will be arranged. Mrs. Cornelius Zabriskie, president of the New York State Federation, 846 Carroll street, Brooklyn, New York, may be addressed for costs, itinerary and dates.

The National Woman's League of the Junior Republic was recently held in Washington. The purpose of the League is "to educate boys and girls in the duties of citizenship, in the hope and expectation that eventually the present unsatisfactory system of reform schools and houses of correction may be abolished." A constitution and by-laws were adopted. The officers are Mesdames Fairbanks, president; Mary A. Lockwood, vice president; H. P. Sperry, corresponding secretary, and John R. Neil, treasurer. A board of directors and vice presidents representing every state in the country was decided upon.

The Lincoln Woman's club met on Monday afternoon in the club room. Miss Hayden, leader of the Art department had charge of the program. Miss Hayden is thoroughly an artist in feeling and inspiration. She spoke briefly of a number of pictures in the exhibit, bringing out clearly the main points, good, bad or indifferent, in their conception. Some of the pictures she particularly discussed were Faulkner's "Venice," "Early Evening at Episy," by Gihon; "Near Medway, Mass," by Inness; "Red Shawl," by Maurer; "Landscape" and "On the Bridge," by Sousa Pinto; "Luxembourg Gardens" and "Lions on a Still Hunt," by Tanner; "Portrait of Miss C.," by Walcott; "Marine," by Simon, and the pictures by Dauchez. Miss Julia Lippincott who is in Lincoln this winter after several years of study in New York, said a few words in regard to the exhibit. She agreed with Miss Hayden in her opinion of Dauchez and Sousa Pinto. She praised highly the "Foam."

Mrs. F. M. Hall not only spoke with enthusiasm, but aroused enthusiasm by her remarks. She said that the exhibit had a double value, in that the pictures were by people who paint good pictures, and were chosen by people who know good pictures. She offered valuable suggestions as to the manner of looking at a picture. Mrs. Hall said that the first thing she thought of in looking at a picture was "what particular thing has this artist to say to me." She did not agree with Miss Hayden's and Miss Lippincott's estimate of Dauchez's "Reefs" and "Marshes," Sousa Pinto's "Landscape" and Simon's pictures. A brief discussion by the members as to these and other pictures followed.

The Art department of the Woman's club will meet with Mrs. Hodgman on Monday afternoon.

At the last meeting of Sorosis, Tuesday, January 8th, Mrs. Welch discussed briefly the Ancient history of China and its connection to recent Chinese troubles. She spoke at length of the Joint Note submitted by the Powers. The subject was particularly timely as the meeting occurred a day previous to the signing of the Joint Note by the Powers. Miss Julia Haskell was elected a member of Sorosis. The next meeting will occur Tuesday, January 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Leese. Miss Annie Miller will have the subject for the afternoon, "Traveling Libraries."

The regular weekly meeting of the Fremont Woman's club was held Saturday afternoon, January 12th. The attendance was large and much interest was shown by the ladies in the work which is being pushed. Prior to the program which was offered, a short business meeting was held. The new public library was the principal thing under discussion. Every member is enthusiastic over this project, and the success of the move will be assured, as soon as the citizens realize that it is a necessity for the city.

A committee consisting of Mesdames Hollenbeck, Laird, McGiverin, Veazie, Lee, Richards and Miss Stella Keene, was appointed to consider plans for a library, and to find out the sentiment of the merchants toward such a move. The primary work of the whole scheme will be left to this committee for the present. The members held a meeting and considered a number of important questions. Two gentlemen will also be chosen to serve on the board.

A social committee was also appointed by the club. The literary program was as follows: Mrs. Veazie read a paper upon the "Museum and Library of Alexandria;" Mrs. J. W. Richards reviewed George Eber's "Uarda;" Mrs. Crowell gave a reading from "Anthony and Cleopatra." The music for the meeting was given by Professor Preston and Messrs. Wigton and Fish. Professor Preston sang two songs and the other gentlemen gave a mandolin and guitar duet.

On Monday the Omaha chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution held their annual meeting at the public library, when they elected officers for the ensuing year and delegates to the Continental Congress at Washington the week of Washington's birthday. The elections were as follows: Mrs. A. Allen, regent; Mrs. S. D. Barkalow, vice president; Miss Nancy Battin, secretary; Mrs. J. R. Webster, treasurer; Miss Ida Johnston, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Harris, registrar; Mrs. M. D. Williams, historian. Miss Eleanor Dutcher was elected delegate to the Continental Congress, and Miss Ida Johnston her alternate. The advisory board for the year will be composed of Mesdames M. B. Lowine, A. C. Troup and F. E. Hall. Mrs. Troup was also the unanimous choice of the meeting for the office of vice-president-general for Nebraska, and will go before the national convention at Washington as a candidate for the place, Mrs. Donald McLean of New York being endorsed for the candidacy for president general.

The Athenae club met Friday with Mrs. Irvine. Mrs. Kelly read an interesting paper on Romanesque Architecture.

The subject for this week's meeting of the Fortnightly on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Green was George Eliot; Zola; Ibsen; The Victorian Poets; the drama. Mrs. Lamb had prepared a careful and thorough paper, but owing to her illness, the paper was read by Mrs. Green.

Among this week's club notes mention was made of the opposition of St. Louis women to a special department or building for the exhibition of woman's work. Mrs. Edwin Harrison, president of the Missouri Federation, invited Mrs. Potter Palmer to this week's conference in Kansas City. She was unable to come, but her letter and the resolutions of the Wednesday club of St. Louis are valuable as opinions upon the subject. The following is Mrs. Palmer's letter:

"As to the advisability of erecting a woman's building, I think it would be much better to have exhibits installed without regard to sex, providing you
