...Perfection...

Absolute perfection is often claimed for shoes that are simply stylish. Shoes that are plenty stylish enough when new often lack durability and comfort. All our shoes are good. The higher priced ones are absolutely perfect in every detail. The cheaper ones, of course, can not be.

When you come to us you get what you pay for and you know what you get. A discount on all leather goods this week.

SOCIETY

Married, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Armstrong, Miss Winnifred May Armstrong to Mr. Leon Bert De Munge, on Wednesday evening at half after eight. The marriage service was performed by Dr. Fletcher L. Wharton of St. Paul church. Miss Irene Hunt played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party entered the drawing room and Mendelssohn's march at the conclusion of the service. The ceremony was performed under an umbrella of white roses which hung in the centre of an arch of palms. White roses shaded the lights and were massed on the mantel. The bride's gown was of light gray cloth which contrasted well with her dark hair. The waist had a full vest of crepe de chine and tigar jacket of white velvet, embroidered with green and gold. The skirt was entrain and trimmed with gray mirrored velvet and chinchilla. The bridal bouquet was of white roses. Mrs. George Vanderpool was matron of honor. She wore her wedding gown of white swiss mull and wore white roses in her hair. The large house was elaborately decorated. Masses of yellow roses in the library rivaled the gorgeous American Beauties which had taken possession of the dining room on the one side, and dainty white lillies and blushing carnations in the sitting room on the other side. The shades and candles corresponded with the color scheme in the various rooms. The polished top of the dining table was covered with Battenberg where the refreshments were served by Mesdames George Vanderpool, Arden Chapman, Misses Mabel Barrick, Irene Hunt and Edith Erford. Mrs. A. H. Armstrong directed the guests to the dining room. Many lovely presents were bestowed upon the bride. The wedding guests were: Doctor and Mrs. Wharton, Messrs. and Mesdames A. H. Armstrong, Howe, Vanderpool, Chapman, Hotaling, Ayres, Violet, McNichol, Summerlad, W. J. Lamb, J. M. Jaques, Boney, Ransom, McCain, Sprong and F. A. Tucker of Omaha; Mesdames Mansfield and Doyle; Misses Barrick, Erford, Hunt, Howland, Clinton; Dr. Paine, Dr. Shoemaker. Messrs. Evans, Woodward, De Putron, Ewing, Halstead and L. F. Rohde of State Centre, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. De Munge have gone to State Centre where they will reside.

This afternoon Mrs. Lahr will give a large card party. Mrs. Ames, Misses Stella Kirker and Georgia Field will assist the hostess. Six handed euchre will be played and royal, consolation and shouting prizes will be given. The guests will be: Mesdames Kellogg, Hallett, Mayer, Mayer, Richards, Scofield, Holyoke, Holyoke, Nance, Winnett, Van Brunt, Hill, Tibbetts, Seacrest, Harpham, Harpham, Backburn, Harris, Wilkinson, Arnett, Taylor, George Risser, Fitzgerald, W. C. Phillips, Johnson, Jones, Dorr, Thomas, Winger, Ackerman, Newmark, Pound, Pound, Spears, Friend, Field, Grubbs, Foster, Castor, Robbins, Atwood, Guenzel, Davis, Crandall, Crandall, Bigger, Welch, Fawell, Stoney, Kimball, Raymond, Finney, Schuckman, Weil, Rudge, Mullen, Kennard, Eames, Garoutte, Casebeer, Folsom, Ricketts, Pitcher Moore, Baker, Butler, Lee, Stiles, Chapin, Burr, Usher, Rosenbaum, Janzen, Woods, Woods, Teeters; Misses Mayer, Nance, Hawley, Hardy, Risser, Franck, Pound, Pound, Stella Kirker, Hallett, Rice, Towne, Miller, Daan, Lindlay, Heaton, Burr and Polk.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Angie F. Newman was hostess to a large number of ladies who gathered at her hospitable home to listen to a talk on the Passion Play at Oberammergau, given by Dr. Ruth Woods, whose privilege it was to witness the play last summer. The performance has been given every decade for two hundred and eighty-six years with no intermission and only one postponement of a year during the Franco Russian war. It was first given on top of a mountain peak which over looks the little village and was given crudely with the simple costumes and limited means then possessed, now its presentation is as nearly perfect as may be. A large building with an amphitheatre seating five thousand people and a stage which will accommodate two thousand, was erected in 1899 and was used for the first time during the exposition summer. Dr. Woods described the play accurately and tenderly carrying with her constantly the interest and sympathy of her listeners. Previous to the talk Miss Dales played without accompaniment a Romance by Rubinstein and in response to an encore, The Bee, by Schubert. At the close of Dr. Woods' talk Miss Dales again appeared and played Romance by Wieniawski, and as an encore, The Last Rose of Summer. Mrs. Newman invited the guests to meet Dr. Woods after the entertainment and also to go to the dining room where refreshments were served by Mesdames I. M. Raymond and Tilton, assisted by Misses Cowdery and Hartley.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Frank E. Lahr gave a large and successful Kensington. The hostess' little daughter, Miss Ruth Lahr, played on the piano for the entertainment of the guests and the silvery tone of a music box was heard above the gay chatter of the guests. A four course luncheon was served. Mrs. Lahr was assisted by Mesdames Field and Grubbs. Those present were: Mesdames Phillips, Welch, Wallace, F. A. Brown, Sawyer, Wharton, Stout, Stein, Stewart, Rieger, Watkins, Seacrest, Risser, Morrill, Bessey, Burkett, Cox, Barber, Schwake, Dobbins, McMurtry, McCreery, Garten, Steckley, Halt, Fullerton, Bennett, Kirker, Hallett, Brown, Howard, Rice, Hartley, Parker, Hill, Babcock, Plummer, Reese, Stevenson, Bushnell, Hodgman, Harwood, Lindlay, Heaton, Turner, Hathaway, Slater, Polk, Chambers, Howell, Wells, Weir, A. M. Davis, Newman, Pace, Tibbetts, A. S. Raymond and Wheeler.

Miss Carson entertained the active and alumnae members of Kappa Alpha Theta Thursday afternoon. Each guest was asked to contribute her specialty for the entertainment of the others. A ballot was taken and the majority decided in favor of Miss Marie Crounce's violin solo, and Miss Ruth Macfarland's clog dance, so the prizes were awarded to these two ladies. Light refreshments were served.

The annual serenade by the Junior class of the State university was given last night at the Lincoln hotel and was a brilliant affair as these functions are sure to be. The committee was composed of Messrs. R. B. Adams, chairman;
