

the dining room. Placards announcing the articles to be served were displayed on the walls and the guests ordered what they wished. After refreshments music was rendered by Misses Taylor and Jessie Brown and Mr. Nicholas. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. G. Taylor, John Heelan, C. A. Carpenter, Arthur Gadd; Mesdames C. Carpenter, J. B. Hanna, Brown; Misses Stella Irine, Laura Taylor, Mae Hyland, Anna, Bulah and Jessie Brown, Annis Byers, Bava Storey; Messrs. William Howland, Frank Tinney, Thomas Hyland, D. W. Nicholas, Philip Wolgenmuth.

On St. Valentine's day Mrs. C. F. Harpham gave a dinner for Master Julius Harpham, her son. The initials of the guests formed into candy hearts constituted the place cards. A valentine was at each cover and the table was daintily decorated in pink and white. A four course menu was served to Misses Dorothy Raymond and Esther Warner; Masters Forrest Tebbetts, Walter Wilson, Ralph Wilson, Kenneth Warner; Harry Dobbins.

The Tuesday Night club danced Wednesday night at Walsh hall. Those present were Misses Burris, Gahan, Cole, Richarde, Woodward, Henry, Houtz, McHenry, Thorp, Macomber, Daniel, Hammond, Burris, Johnson, Wirt, Morgan, Agnew; Messrs. Ames, Anderson, Orr, Marlay, Ricketts, Morrison, Kennard, Brown, Drain, Raymond, Andrews, Norval, Schick, Paine, Clark, Homan, McCreery.

Miss Miriam Grant, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant, of San Diego, California, is spending the winter with her grandmother, the widow of the General, in Washington. Miss Grant has already received marked social attentions. She is an attractive young woman. Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant arrived in Washington from New York last week to spend the remainder of the season with her mother-in-law, whose advanced age and failing health prevents her taking part in social life.

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst has returned to the social fray, and Washington greets her with delight. She gave a large musical on Monday night, when half her calling list was present to hear Madame Schumann-Heink and Mr. David Bispham. Mrs. Hearst gives another musical before the end of the season, when the other half of her list will be present. She occupies a peculiar position. She is not of the smart set, yet it would only too gladly welcome her to its arms. But Mrs. Hearst does not care to be exclusive; she prefers to enjoy the varied charms of half dozen different social cliques.

Miss Mabel Hays will give a card party this afternoon in honor of her cousin, Miss Emmons of Denver. The house will be decorated with hearts, the game of hearts will be played and the sandwiches, ice cream and other viands will assume shapes suggestive of St. Valentine's week. Miss Hays' guests all active or alumnae members of Kappa Kappa Gamma, will be Mesdames Lewis Marshall, and E. C. Folsom; Misses Kirker, Lindlay, Whedon, Margaret Whedon, Whiting, Adelloyd Whiting, Hargreaves, Louise Hargreaves, Houtz, Richards, Outcalt, Jessie Outcalt, Bennett, Mabel Bennet, Funke, Griggs, Ratcliff, Manrid, Blanche Emmons, Jeary, Dimmick, Risser, Clara Hammond, Anna Hammond.

Miss Cora B. Hardy entertained the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity at five o'clock tea on Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Selma Wiggerhorn of Ashland. Miss Hardy was assisted by Mesdames C. K. Pitcher and G. W. Rhodes, who served Misses Hallie Post, Jeannette Post, Jessica Morgan, Abbie MacHenry, Ella Wirt, Ruth Macfarland, Jane Douglas, Anna Edgren, Frances Cunningham, Nan Cunningham, Laura Woodford, Viola Stewart, Ella Harper, Margery Loomis, Esther Paddock, Katherine Agnew, Lida Millar, Charlotte Clark, Emily Weeks, Rosa Carson, Jean Tuttle, Long, Leogore Wilson, Jessie Lansing; Mesdames Eason, Hardy, Fling, Ladd, Clements, Belcher.

Father Reade, who has been ill for a fortnight has returned to the strenuous life again, whose activities were the cause of his temporary exhaustion.

Last Monday a new men's club, having the same general character and composition as the Round Table, was organized by twenty-five business and professional men of Lincoln. It has been christened The Candle Light Club. Meetings will be held on alternate Monday evenings, the members to dine together informally, later enjoying a paper by one of their number and discussing it at their leisure. It was decided to have no ponderous machinery of organization, but to place the management of the affairs very largely in the hands of an executive committee consisting of Dr. Manss, Prof. Hill and Mr. Manahan, the latter to act as secretary. The membership is limited at present to thirty-five. The following men have accepted memberships, and nearly all were present at the open meeting: Dr. Bailey, Chancellor Andrews, Dr. Bullock, Prof. Davis, Prof. Fling, Dr. Hill, Judge Irvine, Prof. Lees, Dr. Manss, Father Reade, Prof. White, Prof. Weir, Messrs. Berger, Crittenden, Fitzgerald, W. O. Jones, Kimball, Levring, Manahan, Pound, Randolph, Robbins, Shepherd, Strode and Woods. The dinner and business of organization were disposed of promptly and time was left for a discussion of the new city charter by City Attorney Strode, Judge Irvine presiding over the session.

Mrs. T. S. Cochran was surprised on Friday afternoon by the members of the Pythian Sisterhood. Mrs. Cochran will soon join her husband in Tacoma, where they have transferred their penates. Mesdames H. H. Barth, E. Fleming, A. N. Young, W. A. Hamilton, John Harrop, Gage, R. S. Grimes R. W. Hoffman, D. C. Platte, C. Wilson, H. M. Descher, R. W. Young, J. C. Lamb, T. S. Greer, A. L. Pound, J. C. Hagensick; Misses S. Douglas and Fay Cochran joined in the farewell function.

Messrs. Barry, Morris, Langer, McMasters, Brooks, Kline, Hanlon, Peters, Jouvenat, Hunt, Brackett, Ledwith, Mercer, Swain, Griffin, Childs, Nielson, Shock and Sturdevant gave a party on Friday night at L. L. I. hall to Misses Reeves, Minnie Guile, Mabel Guile, Hull, Chappell, Briggs, Woodruff, Druse, Dally, Brown, Hartsough, Hunt, Taylor, Anthony, White, Erisman, Ledwith, Hess.

Mrs. Angie F. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas gave a dinner last Saturday in honor of Assistant Secretary of War G. D. Meiklejohn. Covers were laid for Chancellor and Mrs. Andrews, Messrs. and Mesdames John B. Wright, G. M. Lambertson, S. H. Burnham, C. H. Morrill, I. M. Raymond, Dr. Ruth Woods, Mr. Sears, speaker of the house of representatives; Messrs. O. R. Olson and J. A. Andrews, members of the legislature.

Delta Delta Delta fraternity gave a valentine party Thursday evening at the home of Miss Auld. Red hearts were every where suspended for decorations. The napkins were red paper hearts and the sandwiches and ice cream were heart shaped. Silhouettes of the guests were thrown on a screen and the originals were guessed. Dissected valentines were matched to find partners for refreshments. A four course supper was served to Misses Miller, Du Teil, Bryant, Davenport, Murray, Mitchell, Koehler,
