SOCIETY

Society is concerned with the Fair of Nations to be held in the auditorium on the 1st and 2nd of March. The preoccupation of society women in this event is one reason for an unusual paucity of pre-lenten functions. The various booths will be under the management of the following men and women who have already made a reputation for taste and executive energy:

- Colonial booth—Mesdames R. T. Van Brunt and M. D. Welch.
- U. S. booth—Dr. and Mrs. Ladd in charge, assisted by a number of people. The Quaker section, Mesdames J. B. Horton, Mark Tilton and W. F. Kelley. Indian section, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Marshall, Mrs. T. W. Griffith, Miss Mabel Hayes and others.
- Filipine booth—Miss Hartley.
- English booth—
- French booth—Mesdames F. M. Fling, H. P. Eames and J. H. McMurtry.
- German booth—Haydn Myer.
- Spanish booth—Mrs. Ode Rector and Miss Helen Welch.
- Japanese booth—Miss Mae Burr.
- Holland booth—Mesdames W. Kimball and B. F. Bailey.
- Swedish booth—Mrs. A. H. Edgren and Miss Barr.
- Turkish booth—Mrs. E. L. Hinman.

Mrs. R. T. Van Brunt celebrated Washington's birthday with a card party given yesterday afternoon and another in the evening. Patriotic indeed were the decorations. Flags were everywhere, they were draped on doors and windows, and festooned on the walls and dozens of little ones were pinned on the window curtains. The house was lighted by red, white and blue candles and red and white carnations were in vases scattered here and there. The prizes for the afternoon were handsome plates. Similar ones were given to the ladies in the evening. The men's royal prize was a portrait of Washington and the consolation was a hatchet. Mrs. Van Brunt and her assistants who were Mesdames Wilkinson, Jones and Billmeyer, wore colonial costumes and powdered hair.
