

To Delta Gamma ever loved
And dear in memory.—Cho.

At the close of the banquet a large silver loving cup with pink, blue and bronze streamers was passed. About ninety girls were present.

The closing reception of the Matinee Musicals was given last Monday afternoon by the retiring president, Mrs. E. Lewis Baker at the home of her mother, Mrs. Cooke. The guests were received by Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Cooke and Miss Cooke. A short business meeting occupied the first part of the afternoon. Mrs. E. P. Brown, the retiring treasurer, read her annual report, after which Mrs. D. M. Butler, the president-elect, announced the following chairmen of committees: Program committee, Miss Mary Smith; reception committee, Mrs. E. H. Barbour; committee on associate members, Mrs. J. W. Winger. Three active and three associate members, consisting of Mrs. A. R. Mitchell, Mrs. John Doane, Miss Annie L. Miller, Mrs. Willard Kimball, Mrs. W. C. Phillips and Mrs. W. F. Schwind, were elected to complete the board. The newly-elected officers are: President, Mrs. D. M. Butler; vice president, Miss Lucy Haywood; recording secretary, Mrs. H. B. Ward; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. S. Raymond; treasurer, Mrs. A. W. Jansen; librarian, Mrs. August Hagenow; auditor, Mrs. E. Lewis Baker. Interesting reports of the Cleveland biennial were presented by Miss Miller and Mrs. Doane. Ices and small cakes were served in the dining room by Mrs. A. S. Raymond, Mrs. W. C. Phillips and Miss Haywood, and punch was served in the hall by Mrs. D. M. Butler.

Married, in Tecumseh, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. D. F. West, on Wednesday, May the fifteenth, Miss Marie Crawford to Mr. Harry Follmer of Oak, Nebraska. The house was decorated in white and green. Miss Clara Smith of Nelson, a little cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. Mr. Eugene Follmer and Miss Gertrude Sullivan of Tecumseh, gowned in blue organdy and carrying pink roses, preceded the bride and stationed themselves in the bay window, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Minor of Nelson. The groom entered alone. The bride, gowned in an exquisite cream duchesse satin, carrying white roses, was accompanied by her father, Doctor West, who gave her away. The Reverend Whitmer of Tecumseh performed the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Follmer, Misses Katharine, Fern and Pansy Follmer, Messrs. Eugene and Ralph Follmer, Doctor and Mrs. West, Mrs. Selby of Peoria, Illinois, grandmother of the bride, Doctor Ruth M. Wood of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Nelson, Miss Garnet Sullivan of Tecumseh, Reverend Whitmer of Tecumseh, and the bride and groom enjoyed the wedding dinner. After they return from their trip Mr. and Mrs. Follmer will be at home to their friends at Oak, Nebraska. Both of the contracting parties are well known in Lincoln social circles. Mr. Follmer, son of Mr. G. D. Follmer, commissioner of public lands and buildings, was at one time a student of the State university and member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Miss Crawford was an active worker in Trinity M. E. Church, and also a student at the university during Doctor West's residence in Lincoln. During the past year she has been studying music in the east.

On Saturday night the Sophomores held the most successful banquet which it has ever been their good fortune to enjoy, at the home of the president, Mr. Frank Johnson, at 305 South Twenty-seventh street. The attendance was large and showed the truth of the old saying, "The more the merrier." Among those who honored the occasion by their presence were: Misses Towne, Wort of Cleveland, and Mr. Congdon of the faculty. Two fellow Sophomores, visiting debaters from Beatrice were also present, and the tones of their voices showed that they had forgotten their defeat of Friday in the gayety around them. The sight of the tables set under the trees, the dresses of the girls, the glow of the Japanese lanterns, and the laughter and conversation must have seemed like a vision of fairyland or a page from the Arabian Nights to the Ciceronian initiates left stranded on our shore without carfare or wings. The refreshments were served in five courses out on the lawn. There were spoons galore. When these had restored the good humor of the company they adjourned to the house, where those so inclined danced. With the class patron saint, Mr. Congdon, as toastmaster several toasts were proposed, serious and witty. Mr. Albert Levy spoke of the Advocate office as he has known it, his subject being, "The Advocate office as a spoon-holder;" Miss Alice Auld displayed her knowledge of "Ties;" Miss Marguerite Pillsbury spoke of "Sophomore Victories;" Miss Camille Hall of "Our fads;" and last of all Mr. Congdon proposed "The Health and Wealth of the Class of 1903." While the refreshments were being served, Messrs. Johnson and Hawley were the envy of all beholders, but when toasts were called for, preferred the seclusion of the pantry. The success of the party is due to the earnest efforts of the committee in charge. May we always have such success in future entertainments! We hope that again in some future time we may enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.—The Advocate.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgren were entertained Saturday evening by Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Fling and Miss Barr. Dr. Edgren talked interestingly of Stockholm, and a group of Swedish and Norwegian songs were sung by Mrs. Henry B. Ward, accompanied by Mrs. P. V. M. Raymond. Mrs. F. C. Ladd and Miss Rose Carson served at the table, assisted by Misses Edgren, Morgan, McHenry, Post, Wirt, Weeks and Woodford, who also assisted as ushers. The following ladies assisted in the parlors: Mesdames E. B. Andrews, C. H. Gere, W. E. Hardy, J. H. McMurtry, E. E. Spencer, H. S. Young, and Miss Conklin.
