The Saturday Evening Herald of Chicago contained a beautiful picture of Miss Pauline Maude Oakley on May the twenty-fifth, with the following notice:

"One of the most interesting announcements of the week is the engagement of Mr. Frank King Clark, the well known and popular basso of this city, to Miss Pauline Maude Oakley, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Oakley, of Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Clark, who is tall, handsome and magnetic, and who possesses the happy faculty of winning and holding friends, has had the good fortune to win for a bride an extremely handsome young woman, who is almost as musical as himself. Miss Oakley is well known here, having visited here often, spending most of her time in musical studies, for she is a singer of considerable ability. An extremely striking brunette is Miss Oakley, so that the two will prove an unusually attractive couple. Mr. Clark has lived here for some five years. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, of Tacoma, Washington, where he resided before he made Chicago his home. The wedding will be solemnized early in September at Lincoln, Nebraska, and soon thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Clark will leave for Europe. They will first go to Paris, where Mr. Clark will devote his time to preparation for grand opera, for which he is well fitted by voice, education, temperament and enthusiasm. But Chicago will hate to lose Mr. Clark, especially when accompanied by so charming a helpmeet. Miss Oakley, who has been in Chicago for some months, was joined here yesterday by her mother. They are at the Virginia, where they will remain for ten days.

One of the prettiest weddings ever seen in Nebraska City took place on Wednesday evening, when Miss Mattie Leland Hayward, daughter of the late Senator M. L. Hayward, was married to Mr. Henry T. Lowe of Colorado Springs, Colorado. The wedding took place in St. Mary's Episcopal church, which was profusely decorated with roses and ferns. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Francis W. Eason of Lincoln. An elegant dinner was served to the wedding party at the home of Mrs. Hayward. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe will spend a few weeks at the seashore, after which they will sail for Europe.

Mrs. Callen Thompson gave a reception on Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Towne. The two hundred guests were met in the hall by Mrs. Hardy and introduced by Mrs. Scott to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. Thompson, Miss Towne, Mrs. W. G. L. Taylor and Doctor and Miss Sherman. Mesdames Bushnell and Harpham and Miss McAlpine assisted in the parlors, and Mrs. S. J. Stevens and Misses Kirker and Clarke on the lawn. Ice was served by Mesdames Ernest Folsom, Maddux and Eames, assisted by Misses Ruth Raymond, Georgia Field, Helen Wilson, Helen Dolson and Josephine Courtelott. Miss Cleveland served punch, assisted by Misses Camille Hall, Edna Kind, Clara Archibald and Alice Auld. A most enjoyable lecture was given by Doctor L. A. Sherman, on the subject, "Some New Readings about Shakspeare."

At the meeting of the city improvement society on Thursday morning the announcement was made that thirty-three names were entered for the lawn contest. The time for sending in names has been extended, and no fee is required for registering. A committee with Mrs. F. D. Levering, chairman, addressed the children in the various school buildings last week concerning the project. A committee composed of the following citizens was appointed to conduct a vigorous sidewalk campaign: Messrs. Charles A. Robbins, J. E. Miller, Adna Dobson, William Schroeder, Lewis Greogry, C. J. Ernst, T. F. A. Williams and Professor T. M. Hodgman. The society is waiting to hear definitely from the council regarding the care of ambulance, before taking action in regard to its purchase.

There will be numerous class reunions Commencement week. The class of '91 will be entertained at a luncheon given by Miss Rogers, Tenth and L streets, on Wednesday; the class of '96 will celebrate its fifth reunion on Tuesday with a dinner at the Lindell; the class of '98 will hold its reunion with Miss Wilkinson, 1704 Washington street on Tuesday at twelve-thirty; the class of '99 will meet with Miss Emily Weeks, 1327 H street on Tuesday, and the class of 1900 will be the guests of Miss Gladys Henry, 1945 G street on Wednesday evening.

The feature of the week, socially, has been the five parties given by Mrs. J. C. Seacrest on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Thursday afternoon and evening, and on Friday evening. They were June parties in every sense. June roses, June faces and June costumes made each function a season of exquisite enjoyment to every invited guest. Prizes were won on Wednesday morning by Mesdames Harpham and Gibbe; on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Jaques and Mr. Henry Mayer; on Thursday afternoon by Mesdames Usher and Bert Davis; and on Thursday evening by Mrs. George Riesser and Mr. John Dorgan.
