The following from the Washington Post will interest many Lincoln friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith: The marriage of Miss Caroline Wilhelmina Meyer, of Aurora, Ill., and Mr. Henry G. Smith, of Washington, was solemnized at St. Andrew's Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. John Woods Elliott, assistant rector of the church, conducted the ceremony. Only a few intimate friends of the young people attended the wedding. Miss Gertrude Dietrich, daughter of Senator Dietrich, of Nebraska, who is a student at Bryn Mawr college, was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. Louis R. Bostwick, of Omaha, Neb., the best man. The bride wore a gray traveling gown and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Dietrich wore a blue gown. A wedding breakfast at the Raleigh followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Smith is a niece of Senator Dietrich, and was with him at the Cairo for several months last winter. While Senator Dietrich served as governor of Nebraska she was mistress of the Nebraska executive mansion, and when Lieut. Gov. Savage assumed the governorship, left vacant by the elevation of Mr. Dietrich to the United States senate, Miss Meyer remained at the gubernatorial mansion for several months as the guest of Mrs. Savage, and was prominent in the official life of Nebraska. Mr. Smith formerly lived in Lincoln, Neb., and is now engaged in newspaper work in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home early in November at 1606 K street northwest.

On October thirty-first a Hallowe'en party was given at the home of Miss Stella Clark, 108 North Twenty-seventh street. As they arrived the guests were conducted to the attic which was illumined with Jack-o'-lanterns. After an impromptu program there, they were led into a room weirdly lighted by a crescent moon shining over the hut of the witch who revealed to them their futures, after which popcorn, apples and nuts were served. The ghosts then appeared and while roasting marshmallows, told weird tales. Those present were Misses Lucile Long, Ethel Howe, Lena Campbell, Maude McKersey, Luella Kinser, Grace McQuinnly, Kate Pierce, Stella Clark.

The first large class party of the season—and a pleasant affair it proved to be—was that given by the sophomores of the state university, at Fraternity hall last night. White and green, the class colors, appeared in the decorations. Mr. John R. Forayth was chairman of the committee that carried the affair to a successful consummation. Mr. R. A. White was master of ceremonies. Other members of the committee were Mr. Frank Beers, Mr. Will Ramsey, Mr. Robert Burk, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Blanche Meeker. Fifty couple danced to the rhythmic strains of an orchestra.

Ladies would save their hostesses great annoyance if they would reply promptly to their invitations. The custom in vogue in the east for several seasons, of not using the letters R. S. V. P., or other request for a reply, on invitations is being adopted here. This does not mean that a hostess does not care for a reply, but that she has confidence that her friends will do the correct thing without being reminded that it is their duty. The present season is in its infancy, but more than one hostess has already bewailed the carelessness of her friends in this regard.

Twenty-five couple whirled in the mazy dance Tuesday evening at the commodious home of Delta Upsilon, 1436 S street. The fraternity colors—old gold, pink and blue—were in evidence, and roses, chrysanthemums and carnations gave added charm to the attractive rooms. Mrs. Chadwick and Mrs. Archibald chaperoned the dances. An orchestra played alluring music. Punch and ices were served.

Mrs. R. H. Oakley is the guest of Mrs. S. G. Dorr for a few days.

Mrs. C. G. Crittenden entertained Les Bohemiennes on Wednesday.

Mrs. Clark, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Jones.

Mrs. S. G. Dorr is entertaining her cousin, Miss Jessie Ballard, of Seattle, Washington, this week.

Miss Gere will entertain the members of her chemistry class in the Lincoln high school this evening.

Miss Jeff Hutchinson, a charming young lady from Iowa City, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Teeters.

Governor and Mrs. Savage are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Courtright and little daughter, of Fremont, this week.

Mrs. W. M. Morning entertained the east kensington of All Souls church Tuesday afternoon. After a pleasant social hour the hostess served dainty refreshments to the sixteen ladies present.

At a concert given last week a lady was asked in an apologetic way by another lady, if she would please remove her hat. She replied "Certainly, I am quite willing to do so, I attend St. Paul church."

Mrs. Maude Wiley entertained fifty friends at her room in the McMurtry block Saturday evening. Roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and palms were the decorations. Cards and other games afforded amusement.

Mrs. B. W. McLucas, of Fairbury, has been the guest of the Misses Gere for ten days. Mrs. McLucas (born Cropsey) was very popular when here in school and is always a welcome visitor when she comes to see her Lincoln friends.

The members of the L. A. kensington were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. F. E. Campbell Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Hays, Mrs. C. H. Eubank and Mrs. C. R. Richards were guests. In serving a sumptuous luncheon, Mrs. Campbell was assisted by Miss Jennie Fox and Miss Margaret Haughawout.

MASTER WILLIAM INGLIS AITKEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Aitken.

Miss Cora Smith left Wednesday evening for Cherryville, Kansas to visit her brother, Mr. Wilfred Smith, who is in business there.

Mrs. Callen Thompson has returned from a trip to Chicago. The horse show was among the attractions visited by Mrs. Thompson while there.

Doctor and Mrs. Kinney, of Denver, were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Levering. Mrs. Kinney is president of the ladies' musical club in Denver.

Mrs. J. F. Stevens' class of thirty young girls in the Vine Street Congregational Sunday school, will give an entertainment at the church next Friday evening.

Mrs. G. J. Hess entertained the kensington of the Vine Street Congregational church yesterday afternoon at her lovely new home, 837 North Twenty-sixth street.

Messieurs Fisher, Miles, Bliss, Sowles and Senger, all Phi Delta Thetas, who showed their patriotism by going home to vote, have returned to their work in the university.

The south circle of the First Presbyterian church was entertained on Wednesday by Mrs. J. J. Davis. Officers elected for the year are: Chairman, Mrs. W. J. Hill; vice chairman, Mrs. H. B. Grainger; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Davis.

Mr. T. P. Kennard gave his regular biennial election evening party Tuesday night. Mrs. Pitcher was assisted in receiving and serving her father's guests by Miss Hardy, and Mrs. Van Boskirk of Chicago.

Mrs. Thomas W. Griffith and her daughter Aileen, of Pittsburg, are guests of Mrs. Griffith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Oakley. They will remain for about three weeks. Captain and Mrs. Griffith are greatly enjoying the gay social life in their eastern home.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon gave a charming party at the chapter house on Tuesday evening. Two traveling minstrels were present, and entertained the guests with music. A dance was enjoyed afterward. This fraternity will give a series of parties this winter, this one being the second.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Raymond will start late next week for an extended eastern tour. One object of the trip is to be in New York city at the time the national convention of Phi Delta Theta fraternity assemblies there. Mr. Raymond is the Phi Delta Theta president for this province.

The W. T. M. met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. M. B. Edleman, Seventeenth and Washington streets. After the business meeting the ladies responded to roll-call with quotations from Benjamin Franklin. A social hour was spent during which a dainty two course luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by the Misses Clarisse and Hazel Edleman.
