Sunday School Teacher—Well, who was sorry at the return of the Prodigal Son? Little Girl—The fatted calf.

General—I see here's an article on "Revolution in the Mince Pie."

Colonel—That's the kind of revolution you like to put down, I suppose, General?—Yonkers Statesman.

"But, you see, I only want the teapot and the sugar-basin. Don't you break sets?"

"No, madam. We generally leave that to the servants of our customers."—Punch.

Church—What is your opinion of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table"? Gotham—Never tried it, but I guess I've sampled every other kind of breakfast food.—Yonkers Statesman.

CLUB NOTES

THE WEEK'S REVIEW

The Candle-Light club met Monday evening at the Lindell hotel. Mr. G. W. Rhodes talked of "Some Railroad Problems."

The literature department of the Woman's club continued the study of Browning's "Ring and the Book" at the meeting this week.

Doctor F. W. Hill entertained the Round Table Monday evening. A dinner in seven courses, with carnations for decorations, was served at half after six o'clock. Doctor H. B. Lowry led in a discussion of "Municipal Government."

The Lotos club will give its annual banquet next Thursday evening at the home of Chancellor and Mrs. Andrews. This banquet is always a brilliant event and this one promises to be unusually successful.

The home department of the Woman's club enjoyed a social hour on Thursday afternoon in the library parlors. Mrs. H. M. Bushnell and Mrs. W. C. Phillips were in charge of the chafing dishes. Light refreshments were served.

The nominating committee of the Woman's club will meet Monday afternoon in the library parlors, at half after two o'clock sharp. The chairman requests that all members go on time. Suggestions as to choice of ladies to fill the various offices will be welcomed, and may be given to the leader of any department, as all leaders are members of the committee.

The Athenea club met yesterday with Mrs. A. R. Talbot. Mrs. J. L. Kellogg was leader for the afternoon. The subject was Munich. Mrs. Kellogg's remarks were principally regarding the frescoes illustrating the Niebelungen Lied, which are on the walls of the king's palace, and she exhibited photographs of the frescoes which added to the interest.

The Woman's club will hold its regular meeting next Monday afternoon. The program will be in charge of Mrs. A. W. Field, leader of the parliamentary department. Mrs. W. P. Harford of Omaha, an experienced parliamentarian well known to Nebraska club women, will give a drill. Musical numbers will be: "Spring Song" (F. Lynes), Mrs. Harriett Blair Ward; violin obligato, Mrs. Ina Ensign-Hagenow; accompanist, Miss Cora Herrick. "Die Lorelei" (Edward Baxter Perry), Miss Emily Perkins.

Chapter K of P. E. O. met Monday evening with Mrs. L. O. Jones. The dollar scheme planned at a previous meeting had worked well, and each lady brought her dollar and told how she earned it, some of the experiences being very funny. Miss Mickey and Miss Nelle McFall were initiated as members of the chapter. It is customary for the chapter to present to each bride among its members a dozen sterling silver spoons with the P. E. O. emblem in the bowls, and at the meeting Monday night, Mrs. Mary McKinnon, in a graceful speech presented this gift to Mrs. P. O'Mahony, whose marriage occurred not long ago. The chapter expects a visit soon from the supreme president of the order, Mrs. Carrie Hafeman of Minden, who comes to assist in making plans for the national convention which will meet here next autumn.

Mrs. S. B. Pound, whose two years' term as state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution is nearing its close, has by her enthusiasm in the work, aroused great interest over the state, and two new chapters of Daughters have recently been organized. Quivera chapter was organized at Fairbury early in this month with Mrs. C. S. Steele as regent. Mrs. Steele is an indefatigable worker and under her leadership Quivera chapter must prosper. She recently gave a luncheon to the members of her chapter which was a successful affair. On January seventeenth, at the home of Mrs. Conrad Hollenbeck in Fremont, there was organized a chapter of Daughters, with a membership of twenty. This organization was christened Lewis-Clarke chapter, in memory of Lewis and Clarke, the explorers who conducted an expedition up the Missouri river, camping at Fort Calhoun, Nebraska. Mrs. Hollenbeck was elected regent and the chapter begins its existence with flattering prospects.

Sorosis met with Mrs. E. A. Burnett on Tuesday. The club was favored by having as leader, Mrs. Brace, a former member. Her subject was, "The Conference at London—Separation of Holland and Belgium," which she treated in a delightful, conversational way, enlivening dry historical facts with apt illustrations of her own and the bright pertinent sayings of others. In speaking of the early history of Belgium, the revolts of the Belgians against Spanish, Austrian and French rule, which resulted in the neutrality of the Netherlands, were mentioned. Differences in occupation and religion, aggravated by excessive taxation, unjust representation in public affairs, and the forcing of the Dutch language upon the people were given as some of the causes which led to the Belgian uprising and made necessary the conference at London. Attention was called to the irregularity of boundary between Holland and Belgium as showing the pertinacity of these nations in contending for each point of vantage ground. The present condition of Belgium was touched upon in closing. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. M. Hodgman, on February tenth.

Charles—Your uncle is a very religious man, I understand.

Henry—Oh, yes, indeed! He positively hates everybody who belongs to any other church than his own.—Boston Transcript.

"So Jenkins has drifted into art. How is he making out?"
"Not very well. He hasn't created a Jenkins girl yet."

Customer (wildly)—I want some soothing syrup, quick!
Druggist—What size bottle?
Customer—Bottle! I want a keg. It's twins!—Illustrated Bits.

Mean Old Man—I don't believe your story, nor believe that you are blind. Prove it.

Beggar—If I wasn't blind, I never would have asked you for assistance.—Baltimore News.

"I see the scoundrel in your face!" exclaimed the angry man.
"That," replied the other calmly, "is a personal reflection."

When the angry man had figured this out he was even angrier.—Chicago Post.

Jiggs—Gayboy is very extravagant.
Wiggs—Yes, he spends money just as if he had it.

The Rabbit—I hope appearances are not deceptive, but this looks to me like one of those sportsmen who generally go home with nothing but the gun.

Hewitt—Who won the ball game this afternoon?

Jewett—Gruet; he drank ten to my nine.

"What is a synonym?" asked a teacher. "Please, sir," said a lad, "it's a word you can use in place of another if you don't know how to spell it."—Sacred Heart Review.

A PAPAL POSSIBILITY.

CARDINAL SERAFINO VANNUTELLI

The recent appointment of Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli to fill the vacancy of vice chancellor of the Catholic church gives rise to the belief in vatican circles that his eminence will succeed Pope Leo in the papal chair. The office of vice chancellor is one of the highest in the Catholic church and its incumbent is always a prominent papal possibility.
